3 U. S. Army Advisers May Be Among Viet Cong Captives

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, a crack South Vietnamese task force learned of the battle too late to force Tuesday and probably help U.S. authorities said Communist guerrillas smashed the three U.S. Army advisers captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

Blough Rejects Compulsion on Race Problems

Favors Other Means In Waging War to End Discrimination

BY ROGER LANE
NEW YORK (AP) — Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., rejects the idea that a corporation should use "economic compulsion" as a weapon to deal with community race relations problems. At the same time, Blough endorsed discrimination — fighting employment and promotion practices, and leadership by business executives in outside-the-plant efforts to break down barriers between the races.

Among Big Employers
His views emerged from a discussion of U.S. Steel's role in Birmingham, Ala., scene of recent racial strife.

"Big Steel," through its Tennessee Coal and Iron Division, is the Birmingham area's largest single employer. It ranks among the top half dozen corporate employers in the nation with nearly 200,000 on the payroll.

Repugnant Doctrine
Asked Tuesday about criticism that the company had not used enough "economic influence" in Birmingham, Blough replied:

"For a corporation to attempt to exert economic compulsion to achieve any particular end in the social area seems to me to be quite beyond what a corporation should do and quite beyond what it can do."

U.S. Engineer and Russian Chauffeur Seized as Spies

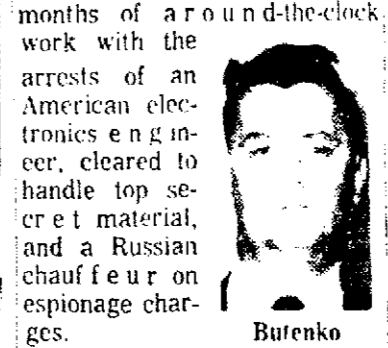

2 of 3 Diplomats Also Apprehended but Freed By Diplomatic Immunity

Martin and Rhoda Brecker of Rego Park, Queens, N. Y., look over their quadruplets in incubators at New York's Babies Hospital today, marking first time the parents were pictured together with the new additions.

Babies, from left, are Lisa, John Raymond, Allison Ivy and Jolie Gale. Babies were born Oct. 23. They will remain in incubators until each gains minimum weight of five pounds. Brecker, 28, is a lawyer. His wife is 27.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — FBI the International Electric Corp. agents have capped seven months of a round-the-clock

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood. Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The two Russian diplomats were Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary of the Soviet U.N. mission and Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attache of the mission.

Vatican Council Favors Letting Bishops As Body Share Authority With Pontiff

Vote Intended Only as Guide But Tops Two-Thirds Margin

Cost of Living In September Shows No Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged in September with fluctuating prices of selected items balancing off, the Labor Department said today.

Food prices fell six-tenths of one per cent from August. Transportation costs also eased, largely because of gasoline price wars in the Midwest and season-end lower prices for new cars of the 1963 models.

On the other hand, clothing prices were up slightly and there was a 1.9-per cent increase in the cost of such services as auto insurance, medical services, home repairs, laundry and dry cleaning.

The department's price index remained for the second straight month at 107.1. This means that selected items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period now cost $10.71.

In detailing the food price drop the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said largely seasonable lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables more than offset a seasonal egg price increase.

BY BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — A big majority of the Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today in favor of a declaration that the Roman Catholic Church's bishops as a body share in the Pope's authority.

The vote was intended only as a guide to further council consideration and was not binding. But it was greater than the two-thirds majority needed in any formal ballot to turn such a statement — with its implications for Christian unity efforts — into a council decree.

The council voted 1,808-336 that a theological schema on the nature of the Church should state that "the body or college of bishops in its evangelizing, sanctifying and caring for its flock is the successor of the college of apostles, and that as a body, in union with its head, the Roman pontiff, and never without him, enjoys full and supreme power over the universal Church."

By a vote of 1,717-408, the prelates also approved the insertion into the schema of a statement that "this (episcopal) power belongs to the college, in union with its head, by divine right."

Vote On Deacons
In another test vote a proposal to reconstitute the Church rank of permanent deacon was approved 1,588-525. However, no stand was taken on whether the deacons could be married.

The council approved insertion in the theological schema "De Ecclesia" the statement that "it is opportune to restore the diaconate as a distinct and permanent rank of the sacred ministry in accordance with (the desires of) various regions."

Sheriff to Produce Data in Traffic Cases

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee County Sheriff Michael Wolke has been ordered to produce a complete list of all traffic tickets released by the sheriff's department in the past five years.

Circuit Judge John L. Coffey, who is conducting a John Doe investigation of alleged ticket fixing, also ordered the sheriff Tuesday to provide the names of motorists involved in the violations, the officers who released the tickets and the reasons they gave for the releases.

Union Fined for Refusal to Unload Canadian Vessel

CHICAGO (AP) — A labor union has been ordered to pay $28,500 in fines for refusal to load a Canadian freighter and faces additional fines of $500 a day until it complies with the federal court order.

Judge James B. Parsons reaffirmed past fines totaling $14,000, imposed new ones of $12,000 and added another of $500 for Tuesday.

"This union has done nothing to obey the order of the court," he said. "Something is fundamentally wrong with unionism."

For more than six months, members of Local 418 of the Grain Workers' Union have refused to load grain into the holds of vessels owned by Upper Lakes Shipping Ltd. of Toronto, Canada.

The judge called the union stevedores' refusal a secondary boycott and said they are being "misled by bad advice."

Congressman From Texas Throws Punch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Gonzalez is ready to fight, either "Marquis of Queensberry rules or alley fight rules." But his intended opponent, Rep. Ed Foreman, says "as far as I'm concerned it's over with."

So no rematch of Tuesday's one-punch fight just off the floor of the House of Representatives is in prospect.

Gonzalez and Foreman are both Texans. Foreman is 29 and husky. He's a Republican who espouses conservative causes.

Gonzalez is 47 and a Democrat who espouses liberal causes. Foreman said, "I didn't call Gonzalez a pinko or a Communist. What I did say was that his ultra-liberal leftwing voting record was a disservice to the Constitution of the United States and furthers the Socialist-Communist cause."

Gonzalez was angered by a news story that quoted Foreman as calling him a pinko, and confronted his fellow Texan Tuesday on the House floor.

What happened next is in some dispute, but in the speaker's lobby just outside the House chamber Gonzalez gave Foreman a single punch on the shoulder.

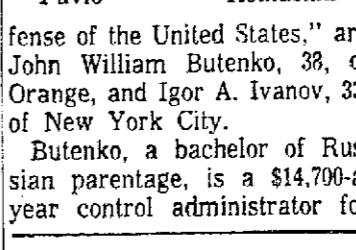

"I'd still like to have it out with him man to man, but he's a Joto—that's Spanish for a yellow-livered sissy," Gonzalez said.

Ginny Moves to St. Lawrence Gulf

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Hurricane Ginny moved over the Gulf of St. Lawrence today on a course for the west coast of Newfoundland after lashing the Maritime Provinces with winds up to 100 miles an hour.

In her wake, she left uprooted trees, disrupted communications and stalling shipping. There were no reports of casualties.

The weather office at Gander, Nfld., predicted Ginny would die in the North Atlantic off the east end of Anticosti Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and along the coast of Labrador.

Congress in Session for Rest of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Senate Returns Jan. 2
Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 88th Congress must—by law—end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second session, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee

Menjou, Filmdom's Epitome of Gentleman, Victim of Hepatitis

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Adolphe Menjou, an elegant dresser who mourned the fading popularity of spats and knickers, was himself mourned by Hollywood today.

The veteran actor, whose career spanned more than 50 years and over 200 films, died of chronic hepatitis Tuesday at his Beverly Hills home. He was 73.

Menjou's third wife, the former Verree Teasdale, and their adopted son, Peter, 27, were at his side.

The actor had been in ill health nine months, his son said.

Menjou, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., was filmdom's epitome of the European gentleman. His clipped mustache and precise speech, along with his dapper clothes gave him the image. He said it was deliberate.

Adolphe Menjou

Menjou attended Cornell University where he wrote, produced and directed college theatricals.

Before World War I, he made screen love to such stars as Marguerite Clark and Norma Talmadge.

After the war, Menjou followed the film industry to California. He hit his stride in 1923, appearing in "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks, "The Sheik," with Rudolph Valentino, and "Woman of Paris," with Charlie Chaplin.

From 1924 to 1929, he earned a reported $7,000 a week. He signed a contract with MGM in 1927 for the same figure, but declined afterward to sign exclusive contracts and remained a free lance actor for the rest of his career.

In 1953-54, Menjou starred as narrator of a television series, "My Favorite Story."

Calumet County Fact Finding Unit Planned

Highway Committee,
District Attorney to Draft Ordinance

CHILTON — The Calumet County Board this week cleared the way for creation of a fact finding commission to settle county labor disputes.

Assigned the responsibility of drafting the ordinance establishing the new unit was the county highway committee working with District Atty F J Schmeider.

Highway committeeman Wilmer Struebing Town of Brillion, revived the drive for a local arbitration group at Monday's board session. It was first introduced at the September session but no action was taken. At the conclusion of the September discussion there was some doubt regarding the county board's authority to create a fact finding board.

Report by Struebing

Struebing reported he consulted with officials of the Wisconsin County Boards Association and learned the county has the right.

Any rulings by the local fact finding unit would not be binding, however, he said. Struebing pointed out that the local group's decisions would carry significant influence on an appeal to the Wisconsin Labor Relations Board.

According to a model ordinance from another county, the commission would consist of three members not affiliated with any labor union or hiring organization. They would be appointed by the county board chairman with the appointments calling for board approval.

Terms will be for three years after the initial appointments.

The move received special support from the highway and Calumet Homestead committees. They are the two groups which could be confronted with a labor dispute.

County Bank

In other board action Tuesday the People's State Bank, New Holstein, was designated as the working bank for county funds in 1964. Depository banks for county funds include the State Bank of Chilton, the Commercial Bank, Chilton, Calumet County Bank, Brillion, Farmer's State Bank, Potter, State Bank of Hilbert, Stockbridge State Bank, State Bank of Sherwood, and State Bank of Forest Junction.

Bonds for elected officials were set. They include treasurer $80,000, sheriff $5,000, Clerk of court $5,000, county clerk $2,000, register of deeds $3,000, and district attorney, coroner and surveyor, all $1,000.

A $57,927 county appropriation to the Calumet County Department of Public Welfare was approved by the board. It represents the county's share of a $234,202 budget for 1964.

The county highway department was authorized to purchase equipment up to $3,000 from its available funds without further county board action.

The board also cleared the way for any advances of state aids from the state highway commission should the need arise.

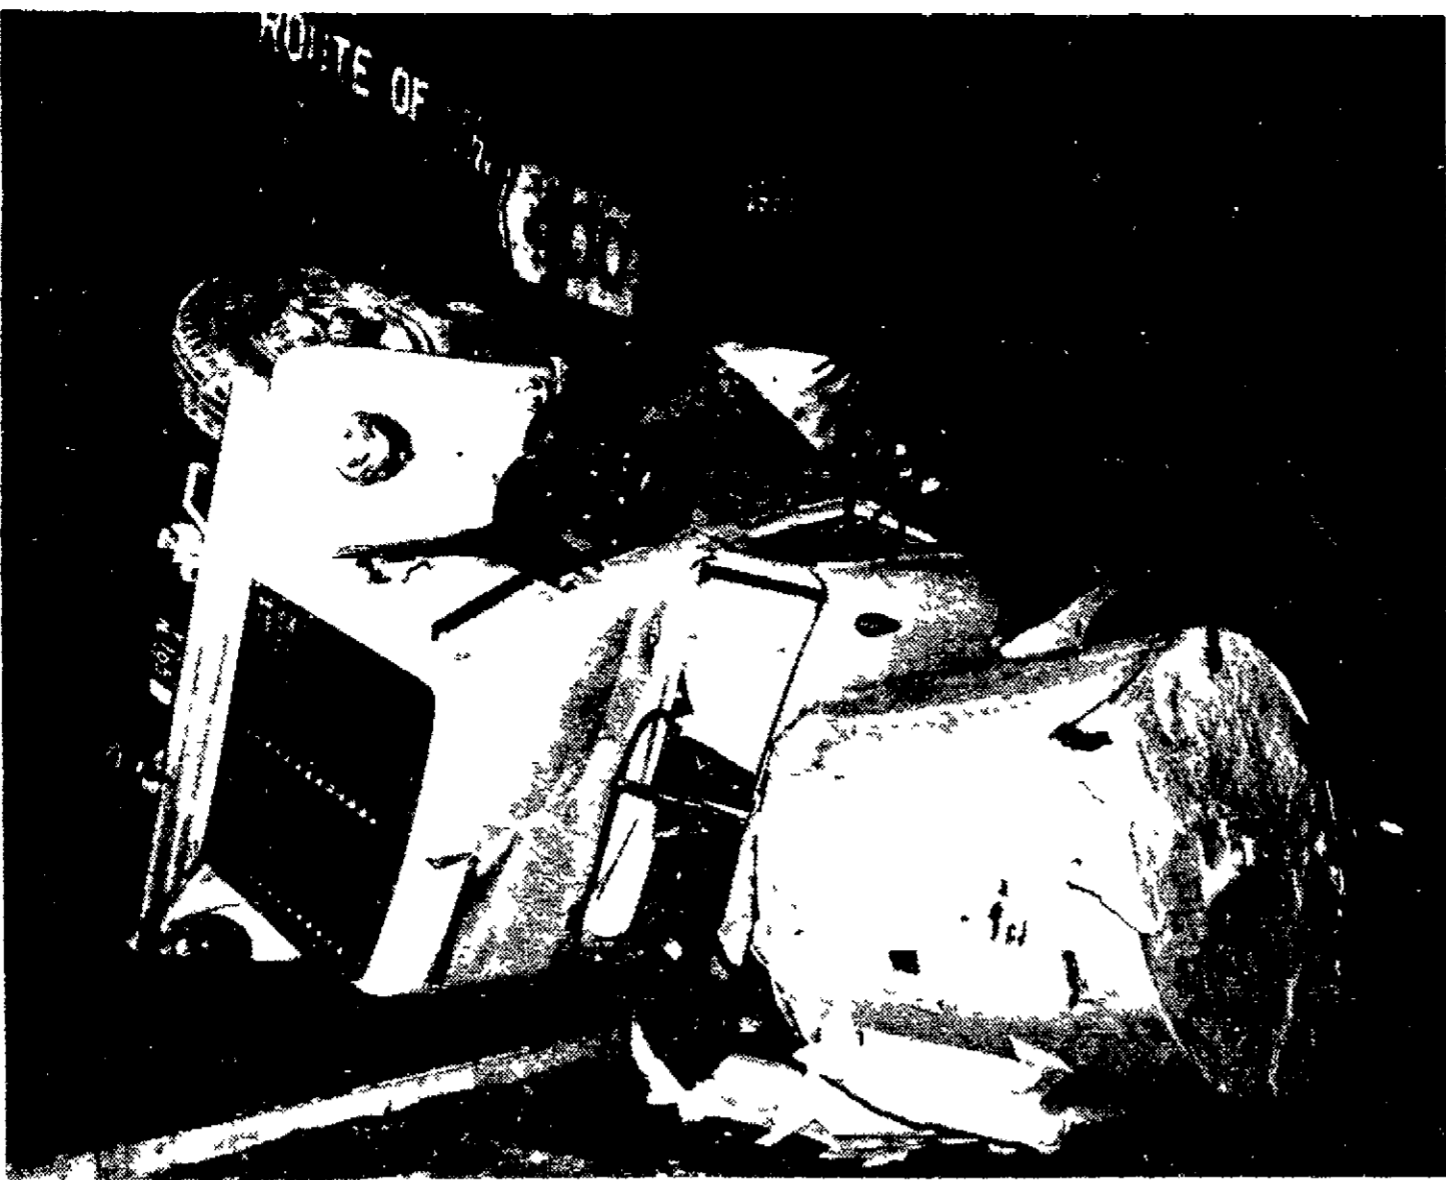

Bill 272-S, aimed at eliminating county charges for the operation of the data processing center, and the offices of assessor of incomes and supervisor of assessments, received the board's support. The board went on record supporting passage of the bill which would transfer the costs to the state.

Committees were instructed to enter into contracts with employees of their respective departments.

Treasurer Merlin Zahn was authorized to destroy old records as prescribed by the statutes.

Fined for Using Abusive Language

David Rosenthal, 18, 911 E. North St., was fined $25 and costs Tuesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 where he pleaded guilty to a charge of using foul and abusive language.

A Semi-Trailer Truck, loaded with 31,900 pounds of paper from the Thilmann Pulp and Paper Co., collided with a Chicago and North Western switch train in Kaukauna Tuesday evening and was completely demolished. Ernest Keisten, 53, route 3, Appleton, driver of the Gateway Transportation Co. truck, said he neither saw nor heard the train approaching the Thilmann

Road crossing Ben Zwick, 820 Desnoyer St. The train engineer said he sounded his whistle four times but the truck failed to stop. Keisten was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital where he was reported in good condition today. He suffered contusions and lacerations. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Appleton Budget Committee To Study Education Request

Board Levy of $3.1 Million
For Operations Up $408,000

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The uphill battle of the budget will be resumed in city hall tonight when Appleton's budget examiners take a hard look at the $3,192,160 levy requested by the board of education for 1964.

Members of the common council's finance committee met again Tuesday night and after reviewing 36 departmental requests and special accounts, approved expenditures totaling $1,241,031. They did manage to cut $24,000 from the original requests.

After two days of hearings, the committee has given the okay to requests amounting to $2,297,855 while authorizing deletions of $51,000.

Nightly Meetings

More than 50 requests have been reviewed by the committee which will hold sessions nightly through Friday.

Requests of all City of Appleton departments, boards and commissions for 1964 amount to a record-breaking $9,638,853. Based on requests — and not including capital outlays which will require a bond issue and additional interest payments — a tax rate increase of $2.35 per $1,000 assessed valuation is inevitable.

There has been talk among city officials to attempt to keep the overall rate, including state and county levies below the $50 figure but at this stage it is doubtful whether this can be accomplished.

Still to be determined is whether more than 300 Appleton municipal employees will receive a salary increase in 1964. The Teamsters Union, which represents about 100 workers in the department of public works, has requested a blanket 15 cents an hour hike for salaried employees and additional fringe benefits.

Unofficial estimates are that the union requests represent a $50,000 to $60,000 package. The personnel committee will make a recommendation on the salary matter.

In addition to seeking $408,000 more next year than it did for operational purposes in 1963, the board of education will request the common council to provide funds for a new grade school estimated to cost $1.8 million.

Fire Station

The city also has plans for building a new No. 1 fire station for $500,000 and a municipal garage for $400,000 next year.

Combining the estimated school, fire station and garage outlays, the city may be required to float a bond issue totaling $2.7 million.

As a result, budget examiners delayed action Tuesday night in approving an appropriation for bond interest and principal payments for 1964. Based on the city's present bonded indebtedness—and not including the possible $2.7 million issue possible.

Downer Girls Will Visit Lawrence

Tour of Campus,
Coffee Hour on Schedule Saturday

Everyone at Lawrence College is as nervous as a mail-order bride this week.

Ten days ago an arranged marriage between Lawrence and Milwaukee-Downer Colleges was announced, with the nuptials set for July 1. This weekend the participants will meet for the first time.

D-Day—Downer Day—is Saturday afternoon, when the Downer student body, 150 strong and chaperoned by parents and faculty members will arrive in chartered buses for a tour of their future home. Saturday is the regularly scheduled Parents Day at Downer but since Oct. 22 an extra event—that of an outing to Appleton—has been added to the calendar.

Tuesday evening a self-appointed faculty anti-vandalism committee went out armed with spray paint cans to obliterate various graffiti disfiguring the campus.

Handsome Men

Handsome undergraduate men are being recruited as tour guides, to subtly illustrate the joys of coeducation. The jolliest girls are being drafted for similar duty.

Downer girls will arrive 2 p.m. at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center, where College President Curtis W. Tarr and student body President Stephen Elliott, Fond du Lac, will greet them in Harper Hall. Campus tours will be led by about 50 Lawrence students, under the direction of the Prospective Student Committee, headed by Dr. Lawrence D. Steefel, Jr., associate professor of art, will give a paper "The Oddness of Manet" Friday at the University of Indiana. He will address the Downer girls will meet their future colleagues at a coffee hour attended by both students and faculty.

$146,910 Lower Than Original
Anticipated Cost for Job

Appleton was on the receiving end of a vital Tuesday when Milwaukee Underground Construction Co. submitted a low bid of $758,000 for the major Walnut Street storm sewer tunneling project.

The board of public works was informed by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues that the Milwaukee firm's quotation was $146,910 lower than the engineering department's estimate for the work.

It will be the largest single sewer construction project ever undertaken by the city and is expected to alleviate chronic flooding in some areas in addition to separating storm and its goal of $173,143. In spite of sanitary sewer lines and the 9 per cent increase in the existing extension of the existing goal, campaign leaders are optimistic about being able to reach this goal.

'Hams' Help Police In 'Pumpkin Patrol'

Radio Amateurs Will Watch for Possible Halloween Trouble Spots

A group of amateur radio operators have volunteered their services to the Appleton Police Department's annual Halloween patrol Thursday night.

Police Chief E. O. Wolff said today he has given approval to the operation which will send amateur radio operators on mobile patrol throughout the city on Halloween night.

Still in the organizational stage the radio operators are patterning their auxiliary force after other amateur groups which give communication aid to police departments on an emergency basis.

Extra Duty for Appleton Police

Some Appleton policemen will be pulling double duty on Halloween night with all members of the department alerted to extra working hours at least until midnight.

Police Chief E. O. Wolff has approved a schedule which calls for patrol duties by virtually every patrolman and detective in the department during the annual Halloween festivities.

Each beat located throughout the city will be manned by teams of two patrolmen. Every squad car will be used including the unmarked cars. Teams of two men each will be in the cars.

In instructions given to department personnel Wolff has urged that each man "make himself seen" during his patrol in order to keep possible vandalism at a minimum.

Last year was one of the quietest Halloween's on record and department personnel said today that the last five years have been routine.

Dr. Steefel's appearance will be his second before the Midwest College Art Conference. Two years ago he spoke to the group at a meeting at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

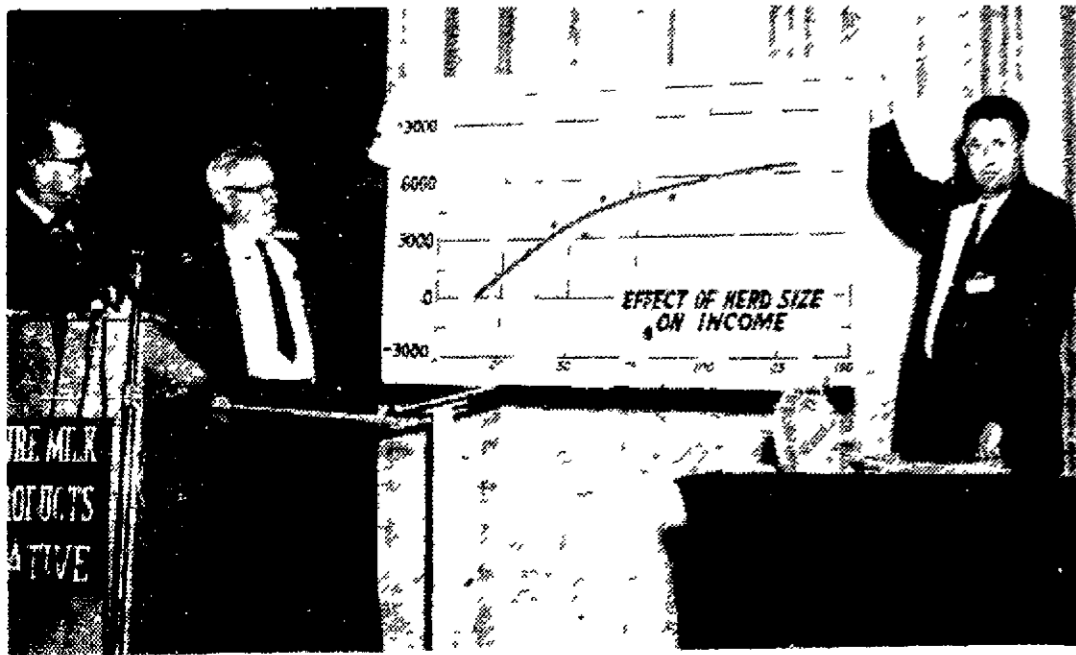

Hoefensberger met with Wolff this week to lay down plans for the Pumpkin Patrol. Hoefensberger also discussed with the chief the possibility of establishing a base citizens' band station in the Appleton Police Station.

This Halloween the patrol will concentrate on spotting and pointing out to police any potential trouble areas, large gatherings of Halloween celebrants, possible vandalism and other hazards.

Coleman, a sculptor himself, has shown his sculpture at the Des Moines Art Center, the Virginia Highlands Art Festival at Abington, Va., and at the College of William and Mary Coleman is teaching a course in sculpture this year. It is the first time in almost two decades that sculpture has been formally included in the curriculum.

Dr. Steefel's appearance will be his second before the Midwest College Art Conference. Two years ago he spoke to the group at a meeting at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Saw Originals

Steefel's topic will be based on an examination of the Manet "Luncheon in the Studio" which he made in Munich last year.

During a year's leave of absence Steefel saw all the significant Manets in Europe. Steefel says, "I am going to talk about the retroactive influence of contemporary pop art which allows us to take a new look at Manet in terms of kinds of objects and situations he portrayed, and redresses an imbalance in previous criticism. We now see the whole Manet, not just the temporary pop art allows us to accommodate his oddness."

Calumet Board Alters Dance Hall Ordinance

Measure Gives Pay Hike to Inspectors, Requires 2 Present

CHILTON — Calumet County's dance hall inspectors will work in pairs beginning Jan. 1.

The first major change in the county's dance hall ordinance since its adoption in 1947 was authorized by the county board Tuesday. Not only does the ordinance change double the number of inspectors required at a public dance but it also effects a pay hike for the inspectors.

In the past, inspectors worked alone and received $8 for a four-hour stint at a public dance. The inspectors' pay came from the $8.25 dance permit fee with the remaining 25 cents going to the county for postage on notices.

The dance permit fee has been hiked to $21. The new rate will provide $10 for each inspector and $1 to the county.

End Discontent Adoption of the amendment should end the inspectors' discontent over pay differences with the county deputies, but it also was expected to create a shortage of inspectors.

County Clerk Roland Miller told the supervisors 25 to 30 inspectors will be required to assure him of the men needed to send to each dance. The announcement sent the supervisors in search of candidates for the posts. Each supervisor was provided with a list of trained Civil Defense Auxiliary Police in his respective municipality as likely prospects.

Despite the sharp hike in the dance permit fee, the cost of putting on a public dance should not increase significantly. With two inspectors assigned, the need for a deputy, who is paid directly by the proprietor, is eliminated.

Kaukauna Works Board Asks $242,000 Budget in '64

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works has adopted a $242,000 works board budget for 1964 and will recommend to the finance committee the establishment of this figure when drafting a tentative budget.

The total is $19,000 higher than the amount listed in the 1963 budget. The board proposed retaining the $100,000 concrete paving figure for 1964 and increased cost of storm and sanitary sewer work from $80,000 to $101,000.

The proposed budget includes $10,000 for seal coating in 1964 whereas no figure was included in this category for 1963 although a $2,000 street oiling figure was listed. Sidewalk construction for 1964 was set at $10,000 compared to $5,000 last year.

A decrease was noted in new equipment purchases contemplated as $28,000 was appropriated in the 1963 budget compared to $21,000 in 1964. Purchases planned for the coming year include $2,500 for a sewage plant truck, $7,000 for a truck and snowplow, $8,000 for a backhoe and $3,500 for a self loader.

Based on previous year's action by the board and finance committee, proposed figures are likely to be adjusted prior to adoption of a final budget.

Menasha Bank Rejects All Bids on Work

Construction of Building Delayed For New Planning

MENASHA — All bids submitted for the construction of the new building for the First National Bank of Menasha have been rejected and revised plans are being prepared for re-bidding, according to K. C. Kimball, president and the building committee, which includes J. H. Witterding, chairman, M. F. Crowley and W. J. Gerbrick.

All proposals submitted for the project were considerably higher than had been anticipated, according to Kimball, making the total proposed cost of the building in excess of the over-all amount specified by the federal banking regulations.

The committee has been in conference for several days with low bidders in each building category, in an effort to adjust the totals by altering some of the basic specifications. When it became clear that not enough savings could be accomplished by this procedure, the decision was made to change the basic elevation plans. When this has been done, the new plans will again be submitted to the contractors for re-estimating and ing bed area will be adequate and fast enough to make this method of removing the sludge banks practical. The dried residue will be hauled away. Previous tests of ways to dry the sludge were unfruitful.

Lost Fiber, Lost Money

A year ago the corporation began plans for engineering additional fiber removal equipment in the mill to reduce the loss of fiber during manufacturing and the subsequent sludge bank formation.

"We are not interested in slushing money into the stream and this is what it means when fiber is lost to the lake," officials said.

Chemical composition of the sludge bank is the same as that of barks, twigs and grass which fall into any stream naturally, except it is more concentrated.

The sludge from the Lakeview tissue mill does not contaminate the stream nor cause oxygen in the water to be used up to any great extent. However, it is unsightly and odorous under certain weather conditions.

The problem has been made more acute this year by extremely low water conditions, lack of rainfall and a heavy growth of bulrushes which prohibits normal disintegration through natural movement of the water.

Corporation officials hope the experiment will show that drainage through cinders in the dry-bidding. Just how long this will require was not determined at the committee meeting, a spokesman said.

Ten bids were received from general contractors, six from plumbing contractors, seven for the heating and ventilating and four on the electrical contract. Proposals for escalator teller equipment and other minor items were in line with bank estimates and will be negotiated in due time, Kimball said.

McMahon Engineering Co. are the architects, with Carl Liebert and Len Urban in charge of design.

Chamber Okays List of Rules

Kaukauna Clubs' Activities Will Go on Calendar

KAUKAUNA—Rules and regulations have been adopted by officers of the Chamber of Commerce regarding the establishment of a community calendar for 1964.

The community calendar is being planned as a possible solution to the problem of several clubs having one or more civic projects taking place on the same date. The chamber will act as a clearing house for clubs and organizations to register programs.

"All civic, fraternal, religious, social and school functions should be listed to give the project real meaning," according to Mary Margaret DeClercq, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

An authorized person from every club or organization is to present the Chamber of Commerce office with printed material relating name of club, dates, times and locations of regular meetings and a list of potential special events planned under their sponsorship during the year.

Information by telephone will be given regarding checking of dates, time and locations of any registered event to another club or organization. The Chamber of Commerce will assume no responsibility for functions not registered.

Letters have already been received by the Chamber from leaders of various organizations praising the community calendar plan. Miss DeClercq pointed out, "with 78 or more clubs and organizations in the community, all must cooperate with the project to make efforts worthwhile."

"One of the prime purposes of a Chamber of Commerce is to make the community a better place in which to live, work and play. The creation of this service would certainly fit into that category," concluded the secretary.

Therapist Cites Speech Problems

Five Per Cent of Appleton School Population in Need of Correction

Five per cent of the elementary school population needs speech therapy, Miss Grace School, head of the public schools' speech correction department, told the Appleton Board of Education.

The department works with a few secondary pupils but chiefly with elementary youngsters, she said in a discussion of the program by the school system's four full-time speech correctionists.

Speaking to the board were Miss School, Lawrence F. Birch, Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford and Miss Kathryn Gobar. Mrs. Crawford and Miss Gobar are new staff members.

359 Pupils

Miss Gobar said the speech correctionists are working with 359 pupils this fall, including 240 boys and 119 girls. Of this number, 88.5 per cent have articulation defects and 8 per cent have delayed speech. Other speech problems include stuttering, voice disorders and being hard of hearing.

Mrs. Crawford explained the screening process conducted during the first two weeks of school to determine which children need speech therapy. The speech correctionists see all in a typical case history. First Primary 11 children, all pupils who had speech work the previous year, all who were on the waiting list for speech therapy the previous year, all new children and all those referred by teachers. They converse briefly with the children, and may give them an articulation test to check on their ability to produce all sounds.

Small Groups

Most children who receive speech therapy meet with the speech correctionist in small groups of three to seven pupils, Mrs. Crawford said. They usually are seen twice a week for 20-minute periods, although this varies with the individual child and his needs, she said.

The caseload for each speech correctionist is from 70 to 100 missed, and rechecks him, until the child is slow Speed" will be part of his presentation.

ually in the fall of the following school year.

Miss School told the board the summer speech therapy program, started three years ago, has proved a valuable addition, and also offers a way of extending the service to parochial school pupils.

Newly-Reconstructed Ballard Road was opened for traffic Tuesday. Pavement, curb and gutter were installed on the one-mile stretch between Wisconsin and Northland avenues at a total cost of $220,400. The new road measures 48 feet from curb to curb. The contractor was Fox Valley Construction Co., Appleton. Federal aid for the project came to $84,590. The remaining $135,810 was split into $67,905 portions for the city of Appleton and Outagamie County. (Post-Crescent Photo) hour-a-day basis as the contractor has indicated he would like to have the job finished by April of 1964.

Plans for the sewer work were prepared by the city engineering department.

Bues explained the project was designed after engineers reviewed several methods of sewer construction.

"From the information we were able to gather, the most desirable types of construction and price would be derived from the poured-in-place and monolithic tunnels," Bues said.

Pre-Cast Pipe

Under the first method, forms are erected as the tunnel is dug out and the concrete is poured in place right on the job. Monolithic calls for pre-cast concrete pipe and lowering it into the tunnel.

Bues recommended at previous board meetings that poured-in-place construction be given top consideration, predicting that it would represent a major savings to the city without affecting the quality of construction.

"In asking for bids, we allowed the contractors to use pre-cast concrete if they chose to do so," Bues explained. He said this was done to provide equal opportunity and not preclude any prospective bidders.

R. P. Groh (5th), one of the first aldermen to insist on taking alternate bids, said he was "most pleased with the outcome." Other members of the board were more than satisfied with the fact the low bid was almost $150,000 less than anticipated.

In addition to alleviating some flooding conditions in the central city, completion of the new storm sewer will permit the city to extend lines next summer and eventually make way for the proposed College Avenue reconstruction.

Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd), chairman of the street-sanitation committee which has guided the major overhauling of Appleton's sewer network, said money for the tunnel project is available from the $1.3 million bond issue floated last summer.

next year—$919,500 will have to be budgeted to meet payments.

The finance committee is expected to raise that figure considerably once it determines what the common council's attitude is toward the proposed bonding. The $2.7 million could automatically add 35 to 70 cents to the tax rate, depending on the timing of the bond issue.

OK Fire Request

After trimming $13,800 in outlays, including $12,500 which represents half the cost of a proposed new fire truck and $1,300 for flasher lights, the committee Tuesday night approved fire department requests totaling $529,720.

The city welfare department budget was cut by $4,000 and now amounts to $71,471.

Examiners also okayed a city home budget of $74,600, including about $3,000 for outlays and renovations. Welfare Director Merton Ehrlich said officials should give consideration to a new building within a few years but said the present facility was still adequate.

Cuts in Half

The budget proposed by City Atty. Fred Froehlich was cut in half, from $14,300 to $7,100. Deleted were requests for an assistant city attorney, $3,600; secretarial services, $1,200; of office space, $1,080; supplies, $180; and a typewriter, $180.

Froehlich, a part-time city at production exceeds domestic torney, receives $6,980 a year. His request for an assistant was forwarded to the personnel committee. The other cuts made by the committee represented the costs he incurs in the operation

Cooperative Delegates Vote Against Proxmire Milk Bill

Dairymen Say Plan Gives Grade A Edge Over Manufacturing Firms

BY RAY PAGEL

Post-Crescent News Service

FOND DU LAC — Pure Milk Cooperative delegates went on record against Sen. William Proxmire's (D-Wis.) class I base plan to restrict marketing quotas and incentive payments to Grade A producers.

The delegates voiced their views on the bill, which passed the senate recently, at the cooperative convention here Tuesday.

Proxmire's program, the resolution complained, discriminates against the producers of manufacturing milk. The cooperative was asked to work for an amendment which would cover all producers.

If a citizen's band station is established at the police station, the patrol plans to man the station with its own personnel. "We owe the plan to a trial," Wolff said today. He emphasized the patrol will have no police powers of authority and will not be authorized to do anything more than point out trouble areas for policemen.

Uniforms

When organization plans are completed, Hopfensberger said it is hoped the group will have between 15 and 20 members, will have regular meeting dates and of the congregation will join in the reading of the 10 points summarizing the teachings of Luther. This will be followed by the nailing of a large scroll, containing the items read by parishioners, to the church door by Lloyd Miller and Robert Buss, church elders.

Reformation to Be Re-Enacted at Lutheran Service

KIMBERLY — A reformation service will be conducted at Mount Calvary Lutheran Church at 7 tonight at which time the congregation will reenact Martin Luther's nailing of the 95 theses on the door of Castle Church, Wittenberg, Germany. First Half of 76th Session Filled With Frustration; No Cooling of Political Fusses

Daley Belabors News Reporting

Sensation Coverage Diverts Readers, Chicagoan Charges

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The performance of news media in reporting public affairs has been called to task by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

He suggested in a speech at the University of Wisconsin that sensational news coverage diverts readers from stories which are "factual, informative and non-sensational."

Conditional Response
"I sometimes wonder," Mayor Daley said, "if all the media... have not set up a conditioned response from the public which actually discourages reading, looking or listening to informative and positive communications."

He read from headlines of a half-dozen newspapers isolated words which he described as "negative, dramatic, of conflict, sensational or emotional." He identified only three of the newspapers—the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Milwaukee Journal and the Washington Post.

TV Violence
The mayor said "themes of violence, cruelty and misery dominate television and demonstrate the medium's concern for 'getting the widest circulation and using that which is most dramatic, most sensational and most entertaining.'"

He added that radio and television newscasts cannot present fairly both sides of an important issue in two or three minutes, despite good intentions.

Mayor Daley addressed a university gathering as a one-day "politician in residence," Tuesday evening.

$150,000 Total Bonds For Robbers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two men and a woman accused of a jewelry store robbery in Wauwatosa, Wis., were arraigned before a U.S. Commission Tuesday and ordered held under bonds totaling $150,000. Their cases were put over to Nov. 5 for arrival of papers from Wisconsin.

Captured Monday
FBI agents said John Belcher, 29, and his wife, Janice, 22, of Lake County, Ill., and Walter W. Wheeler, 51, no address, were captured Monday night in a North Hollywood motel.

Agents said they are accused in the robbery of the Lebolt and Co. jewelry store at Mayfair shopping center in Wauwatosa Oct. 11 in which police officer Ronald Harrison and one of the robbers was wounded. About $100,000 in jewelry was taken but most of it was recovered.

Others Apprehended
Captured after the robbery were John A. Seybold, 39, of Mudelein, Ill.; Stanley Adams, 43, no address and Mrs. Ruth Del Vecchio, Half Day, Ill. Seybold was wounded in a gunfight with Harrison. The three are in custody in Milwaukee.

Speaker Says Dairy Farms Growing Fewer

Convention Told Cooperatives Can Help Situation

Post-Crescent News Service
FOND DU LAC — Milk production in the United States is being concentrated on a relatively small number of farms, Pure Milk Products Cooperative delegates were told here Tuesday night.

Kenneth Wallin, Shawano, Badger Breeders Cooperative general manager and main speaker, said the number of farms with dairy cattle has been reduced from about 2.4 million to 750,000 since World War II. Concentration has taken place at a slower pace in Wisconsin, he said, with about four out of five farms still classified as dairy farms. The reason, he said, is that there is less opportunity to shift to other types of agricultural production in Wisconsin.

"With the tight price situation, we need better breeding, feeding, management and disease control to show a profit," he said.

Improve Situation
Cooperatives, he asserted, can help improve the dairy farmer's situation.

"Cooperatives will prevent the concentration of economic power, foster economic democracy, and foster and protect individual freedom. They provide bargaining power in the market place, and they improve agriculture's public relations," Wallin declared.

He maintained that the present dairy price support program should be continued until something better comes along. Meanwhile, dairy organizations should work out a plan acceptable both to producers and the public.

William C. Eckles, MPKC general manager, viewed talk about selling wheat to Russia as a possible opportunity for the dairy industry.

"I suspect they are trying to avoid a revolution. They've got to have food or the thing will blow out from under them."

Sell Products
"I see this as an occasion to sell butter, powder and other dairy products to satellite countries or to Russia itself."

The manager reported that members of Pure Milk Products sold over 2.1 billions pounds of milk during the year ended Aug. 31. This was cited as a substantial increase over the previous year.

Royal Liddicoat, Monroe, was elected to the board of directors to replace William Baumann, Middleton, who reured after serving 28 years. Baumann was given a gift and official commendation for his long and diligent service.

Directors re-elected to three-year terms were Hugo Breit, Stratford; Wesley Newhouse, Kaukauna, and Robert Hunter, Junction City.

Paul Affeldt, Sparta, was continued as president at a board meeting following the general meeting. Fred Bromley, Whitewater, was named to succeed Baumann as first vice president. Others re-elected were Donald Uelmen, Campbellsport, second vice president, Breit, secretary, and Clarence Hamann, Columbus, treasurer.

Man Arrests His Three Brothers

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP) — A drama of three brothers arrested by a fourth played its latest act in District Court Tuesday. Francis and Peter Hoffman, 20-year-old twins, were placed on probation for burglarizing an automobile repair shop last month, their brother, Virgil, 27, was sentenced to two to three years for the same burglary. The three were arrested last March 9 by policeman Gilbert R. Hoffman, 29.

Ex-Con Admits Beating Texas Woman to Death

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A youthful ex-convict has admitted killing Mrs. Fred Turner, wife of a wealthy oilman and racehorse owner. She was bludgeoned Tuesday during a burglary attempt in the family's palatial home.

Police said James L. Marion, 22, a Midland Negro, was charged with murder and jailed.

Mrs. Turner Marion He told newsmen Tuesday night, "I don't want to talk."

Mrs. Turner, 66, was so badly beaten about the face that it was first thought she had been shot.

Fled Scene
Marion fled after slugging a daughter of the slain woman. Officers pulled him from an attic hiding place in a house two blocks distant a bit later and he admitted the killing.

Marion finished serving a state prison sentence for burglary last June.

Relatives discovered Mrs. Turner's body shortly after 7:30 a.m. Although a wall safe in a closet was open and empty, tippy-turvy drawers in her dressing room still contained a fortune in diamonds she had battled to save.

Jewels Valued
A brother-in-law, Uel Stephens, of Fort Worth, estimated the assorted diamond brooches, pins, rings, necklaces and watches were worth $500,000.

Mrs. Turner was alone in the house. Her husband was at Las Vegas, N.M., where he has extensive ranching interests. He quickly flew home.

Marion told questioners he gathered loot for several hours before discovering there was anyone in the darkened house.

Knock on Door
He said that after knocking a hole in Mrs. Turner's bedroom door "I heard somebody say 'I'm going to shoot you.'"

"A shot was fired," he said.

Proposed Pigeon Shoot Rejected
NILES, Mich. (AP) — Niles' downtown pigeon population won't face a firing squad—it's been given a reprieve by Mayor Mowitt S. Drew.

A businessman had proposed lining up 125 marksmen on a Sunday morning, mostly along downtown rooftops, for a one-hour pigeon shoot.

The three were arrested last March 9 by policeman Gilbert R. Hoffman, 29.

Knowles Says Programs Must Give Solutions

WAUKESHA (AP) — Warren P. Knowles, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor, said Tuesday night the GOP must provide forward-looking programs "that promise solutions to our problems, instead of merely being against everything that faces us."

Speaking to Waukesha County Young Republicans, the former lieutenant governor said Republicans "must show the citizens the first time... she got up of Wisconsin there is a place for her in the party."

"Young Republicans can help district six and Robert Hunter in the 1964 campaign by seeking new ways to broaden our appeal and hit her two more times with our strength," Knowles added.

Co-op Urges Milk be Sold To Soviets

Would Establish Storage Facility In Wisconsin

FOND DU LAC (AP) — The Pure Milk Products Co-operative has urged that milk and other dairy products be sold to Russia.

Delegates to the organization's annual convention here Tuesday adopted a resolution asking such a program in view of recent sales of wheat to the Soviet Union.

Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., meanwhile said in Washington that he had asked the Department of Agriculture whether it would be feasible for the United States to sell surplus dairy products to the Soviet Union.

Adopt Resolution
Another resolution adopted by the delegates put Pure Milk on record as being willing to work with other co-operatives and private handlers to establish a super milk pool in northeastern Wisconsin, comparable to similar pools in Chicago and Milwaukee.

Other resolutions adopted included one which called for stricter dairy import quotas and another to work for an increase in price supports of $3.40 per hundredweight on manufactured milk.

Re-elect President
The group re-elected Paul Affeldt of Sparta as president.

Other officers elected included first vice president, Fred Bromley of Whitewater; second vice president, Donald Uelmen of Campbellsport; secretary, Hugo Breit of Stratford; and treasurer, Clarence Hamann of Columbus.

Breit also was re-elected as director of the organization from district nine, as were Wesley Newhouse of Kaukauna in district six and Robert Hunter in district three. Royal Liddicoat of Monroe defeated three other candidates for the post for 28 years.

Withholding Threat by NFO on Milk

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A National Farmers Organization NFO official said Tuesday his group may start a withholding action unless Milwaukee area dairies agree to pay farmers 40 cents more per hundredweight now is about $4.00 a hundredweight.

Lee Wery of West Bend, chairman of the NFO's Milwaukee area milk bargaining committee, said if the raise is not adopted a resolution Tuesday "will take the necessary steps to enforce our demands."

Wery said letters had been sent to the dairies last Thursday asking the increase. He said the national NFO headquarters had not sanctioned the Milwaukee area demand.

About 2,000 farmers produce milk for the Milwaukee bottling market. Dairymen in Milwaukee claim, however, that none of their members have signed agreements with the NFO.

Seasonal Lull Sparks Drop in Employment

Outagamie County Shows Decrease Of 1.8 Per Cent

Seasonal adjustments have established lower employment levels in Outagamie County, according to the third-quarter report of the Appleton state employment service office.

A decrease of 1.8 per cent is about what was anticipated, said Fred R. Gehrke, district manager.

Total employment reported by the 60 establishments participating in the labor market information program was 13,308 during September, compared with 13,643 during July.

Adjustments were mostly due to completion of summer project programs by paper manufacturers and the curtailment of summer recreation programs in government. Completion of several large construction projects also accounted for some of the decrease.

Seasonal Increases

Electrical machinery manufacturing and retail sales are two groups showing increases, largely due to seasonal factors.

Expected decreases of the work force in construction and the electrical machinery manufacturing groups will tend to lower employment levels during the next two months. But minor adjustments in most of the other industrial groups, to meet seasonal work schedules, will hold further declines to less than one per cent, Gehrke said.

Over-all demands for workers is expected to be, in general, light. Although retail sales firms may increase hiring for the Christmas season, most demands will be limited to required replacement of summer help.

Supply Steady

The worker supply remains steady in spite of the withdrawal of summer workers. The total number of persons actively registered with the Wisconsin State Employment Service is about the same as two months ago.

The demand for full-time agricultural workers is in balance with the supply, the district report said. The number of woods workers available seems sufficient to meet the oncoming seasonal demand.

Northside Merchants Plan Decorations

Wisconsin Avenue merchants want to show their Christmas spirit.

The Northside Advancement Association has asked to hang Christmas decorations from light poles on the avenue during the holiday season.

Willard Johnson, association president, wrote the common council that the group would like to have city employees erect decorations in the same manner as they do on College Avenue.

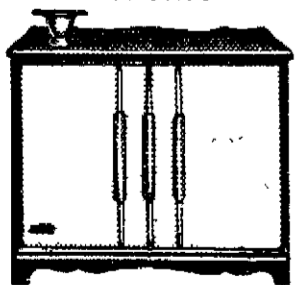

Both avenues—College and Wisconsin—will get the full yuletide treatment again this year.

Kennedy to Speak at Philadelphia Dinner

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy is scheduled to address a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner tonight in support of Mayor James H. J. Tate, running for a full four-year term.

SPREADING NEWS

Dear Louise: I wish to announce my daughter's engagement. How should I word it for the newspaper? Would it be all right to mail formal announcements to our friends and relatives living out of town and if so, how should they be worded?

Davis

Louise Davis Answers:

Society editors on most newspapers do their own wording. All you have to do is submit the facts in writing, giving full names, addresses and any other pertinent information. Be sure to include your signature and the authorization which, of course, always comes from the girls' mother or parents. I strongly advise against mailing dining room announcements. Those receiving candy sales, and Mrs. Carlyle them would likely feel obligated to send gifts. The news can be told to those with whom you regularly correspond. The grapevine does wonders and in surprisingly fast time. If the engagement will be announced momentarily, I suggest adding a brief post script on your out of town Christmas cards. Included in your message you could write, "Mary and George Adams plan to be married in the spring and we're all in a happy dither."

The Backward Glance

As the party season gets under way, satin - smooth upholstery for the back is in sudden demand. The boom stems, of course, from all those bared backviews in evening fashions. Ways to overcome flaws are detailed below:

If the skin is dry or scuffed, add a water-permeable bath oil. To meet the exposure, the territory has to be near perfection. To your daily tub, and soak for ten minutes. Then, with mild soap and a long-handled brush, gently scrub the area. Dry briskly until the skin is pink. Finish with a body-lotion massage.

If blackheads are the problem, brush-scrub daily and pat on an antiseptic lotion at bedtime. Twice weekly, apply a grainy cleanser while bathing, and massage it in with a long-handled sponge.

If eruption is the trouble, the controls are medicated soap and lotion. Both should be used at least twice daily. For lathering, reserve a soft sponge; rinse extra well and blot dry. Swab on the medicated lotion at once, with sterile absorbent cotton. If fatty pads mar the back contours, perform this corrective routine: Kneel on floor and bend forward until hands rest on floor directly under shoulders. Fling left arm up and back as far as possible; follow movement with head. Repeat twenty times, then workout with right arm.

The Ailing House Streaks On Wall

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: The children are always pushing chairs up against the wall in the living room, leaving dark streaks where the backs touch. How can I prevent these marks?

A: Wood screws, with over-size heads and covered with a pile material, can be screwed into the backs of chairs. Available at variety, hardware and housewares stores. Adhesive-backed foam stripping or adhesive-backed flannel-type materials can be applied to the chair backs. These are available at same sources. Any of these will prevent contact between the chair and wall surface.

Q: We want to refinish two bedroom floors. Cracks have developed between some of the floorboards. Can these be repaired or filled somehow?

A: Wide cracks between floorboards are best filled with strips of matching wood, glued or nailed in place. Narrow cracks can be filled with crack filler or plastic wood, tinted to match the of the open joints before filling. floor. A good filler can be made! If there are not many cracks, with fine sawdust with just a putty-like material, available enough varnish (or varnish-in stick form at plywood and stain) to bind the particles to hardware dealers in popular wood colors, can be used. Best together. Fill the cracks all the way results are obtained if the work down and slightly overfull, is done after the heating system. When the filler has hardened, turn has been turned on for a sand down the excess to the level while, so that the wood has had el of the adjoining boards. Clean time to shrink as much as it all dust and loose particles out will from the warm, dry air.

Play Suit According To Needs

Before we discuss the full hand, let's look at the diamonds in today's hand. If you needed the first two diamond tricks (for some good reason), you would lead a diamond from dummy and finesse with the queen from your hand. If the finesse worked, you would get the first two diamond tricks. This is the "normal" way of finessing.

If you needed the first three diamond tricks, you would lead the ace of diamonds from your hand. Your only hope is that an opponent has the singleton king.

Now, on examining the full hand, you see that you need four diamond tricks, but not necessarily the first four. You can afford to give up one trick along the way.

Normal Finesse Fails

Any method at all will work if each opponent has three diamonds. You will give up one trick and win the other four.

The normal finesse will fail if the diamonds break 4-2. Even if East has the doubleton K-10, in which case the normal finesse will give you the first two tricks, West will have two tricks with his nine and eight.

You can win four tricks against a 4-2 break only if West has the doubleton king. The method is to start the suit by leading a low diamond from the South hand.

If West puts up the king, you will clear the rest of the suit with dummy's jack and your own ace and queen. If West fails to put up the king, you will win with dummy's jack and then will capture the king by playing the ace. Then you take the queen and give East a trick with the nine of diamonds.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S 10 8 7 6 C None. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades. The suit should be far safer than notrump.

Modern Artist Must Face Challenge of Change

Art has basically been a conservative force devoted to sustaining values rather than justifying its occasion for being, explained Lawrence D. Steefel, associate professor of art at Lawrence College, Tuesday at the Challenge of Change seminar program of continuing education for the mature women at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

Change, Mr. Steefel pointed out, is inevitable and impossible to escape. But he is unhappy this is so. He sees it as an engulfing force with which he cannot cope. Some say changes liberate modern art. But he explained that art follows and responds. If modern art tells one too much it is only because it is responsive to forces in the culture as a whole. The concept of art is threatened with dissolution.

Used Slides

Showing slides to exemplify his points, Mr. Steefel used the image of humanism as portrayed by da Vinci to show the tradition that is being destroyed as the world meets the challenge of change.

The work of Picasso is a powerful art as it is a modern art. But Mr. Steefel said he was "not sure it is a good thing."

Art in the traditional sense has dealt with the relationship of nature, man and the ultimate. The artist's objects were incorporated into an objective world. But modern art finds it must generate another world — a changed world. The traditional artist's work was consistent in a moment of time, logical in a psychological and culturally natural world. Their work let man know who he was and reinforced his existence as a perceiver.

World of Tension

The modern artist depicts the world as subject to immense tensions. Turbulent forces are often portrayed with a feeling of excitement and the viewer is unable to rest assured.

Modern art as opposed to the traditional often devalues the real world to a meaningless image, Mr. Steefel said. The unexpected, absurd and magical seem to evolve from the art. Some artists employ spots of color and sheer excitement to fill the void.

The speaker said that science has had an impact on the thinking of artists. The modern artist lacks a tradition to build on. His art is faced with a challenge. He must either go back to the past or meet the challenge of change with a breakthrough to a new image.

Couples Court Heartache When Making Illegal Adoption

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The best way I know to get a problem before the public is to write to Ann Landers. I hope you'll print my letter and perhaps spare other couples the grief my daughter and son-in-law are now going through.

After seven childless years our daughter and son-in-law became discouraged and decided to adopt. They were interviewed by three agencies and told to "be patient." Their patience wore thin after two years so my daughter was understandably receptive to the suggestion of a friend who had gotten two gray-market babies and was delighted with them.

My daughter's husband agreed to go the gray-market route and two months later they received a beautiful little girl. She was the light of their lives for ten glorious months.

Last May the baby's natural mother turned up at their front door and demanded her child. She claimed she was irrational when she agreed to sell her baby to "that crook of a lawyer." I'll skip the details, but my daughter and son-in-law were taken into court and they lost.

The nursery door is now locked and theirs is the saddest home I have ever seen. They are paying dearly for their mistake. Please print this, Ann.—Shattered Grandmother

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: Yours is not the first such letter that has appeared in this column, but it is worth repeating. Thank you for writing. And again let's hope this serves as a deterrent to childless couples who are tempted to take a short cut.

DEAR ANN: What's the matter with me? I go from one miserable affair to another. I'll tell you my story briefly and maybe you can help.

I quit school at 16 to marry a foreigner who was 33. My mother thought he had money. She was right — but I couldn't get my hands on it. The marriage lasted six months.

I went with another man who fooled me for two years before I learned he was married and had four kids. The next fellow was married but said his divorce would be coming through "any day." I got disgusted after 15 months and left town to go live with my cousin and her husband.

Her husband and I fell in love. My cousin found out about it and threw me out of the house. Now I'm back in this miserable town and my reputation is mud.

Why am I so lousy? Please help me — Hard Luck Liz

DEAR LIZ: It's not your luck that's hard—it's your head. Move to a city where no one knows you. Resolve to go with only respectable people. Join church groups and clubs where decent people meet. Stay out of bars and joints. Replace that macaroni in your spine with sterner stuff. And stop

Parties Set for All Youngsters On Halloween

KIMBERLY — Halloween parties are scheduled for all youngsters of school age in school District No. 6 Thursday evening, according to Gilbert Frank, recreation director.

Movies, a costume contest and entertainment by John Boettcher, unicyclist and juggler are planned for youngsters of kindergarten age through fourth grade at 5:30 p. m. at Jansen School, Combined Locks, and at the Junior High School gym. At 7:15 a similar program, without a costume party, is planned at the Junior High gym for all youngsters from the fifth through eighth grades. Treats will be distributed.

A dance is planned from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m. for ninth graders at the Junior High School gym and students in senior high may attend a costume dance in the school commons from 8 p. m. to midnight. Bill Kiss will serve as master of ceremonies and disc jockey for the high school affair.

looking for short cuts to Paradise.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of ours who is in the funeral business has a habit which annoys me terribly. If you tell me he is right I will apologize to him.

When this friend introduces a clergyman he invariably says, "I would like you to know Dr. Quentin Collingswood, a Doctor of Divinity." This sounds so pompous that my blood pressure takes a leap every time I hear it. What do you think about this type of introduction? — Anti-Pomp and Circumstance

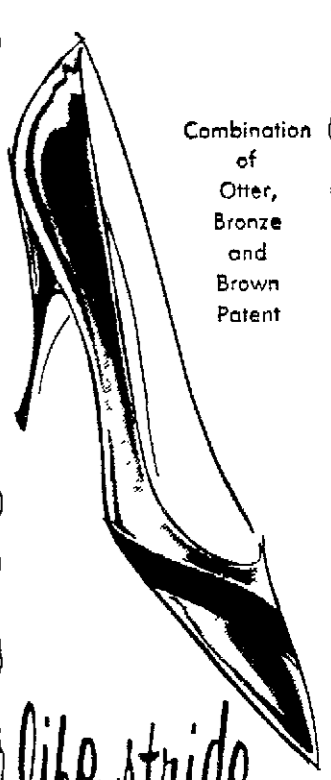

DEAR ANTI-POMP: I would not say your friend is wrong, but he is surely using a great many superfluous words. It would be simpler to say, "This is the Rev. Quentin Collingswood."

One does not introduce a dentist as "Dr. Farnsworth, Doctor of Dentistry," or "Dr. Rosenheim, Doctor of Philosophy"—not that it would be incorrect, but because it would be awkward.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Executive Branch Is Trusting Businessman

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Up of this inquiry. The fact is that the Democratic administration of President Kennedy is being rocked by the response to his crack-down cooperating with and trust-down on steel in the spring of 1962, wants no part of a reputation as a degree un- Still because of the new unprecedented inquiry and the memory of the modern times brawls early in his administration, the "anti-business" label not only for the again is being pinned on Kennedy, but also on the administration. Rather, Kennedy has been extending an olive branch to industry and era, but for the here's proof across-the-board.

On prices and profits: All administration of President Eisenhower is saying about the recent steel price hikes is that they are "concerned" that they "may claim in view of the news last stimulate other price increases week that a federal grand jury which will affect adversely our has reopened a broad probe into competitive position abroad. . . steel pricing practices. Coming As President, he couldn't save on the heels of a round of se-less Any new price upsurge lective steel price increases, would spur a new wage spiral, this has been widely interpreted revive the evil of inflation. It as another attack on the indus-also would add to the govern-try. But the fact is that the men's buying costs, thus swell grand jury has been collecting the budget deficit information on steel pricing pol-ices for more than a year and As for profits, Kennedy has a half, it finally felt it had been repeatedly praising their enough data to proceed with its role as crucial to the U.S. econ- investigation and the timing is omy's growth and the adminis- tration has taken major steps to is that probes of this sort are a bolster profits of U.S. business- continuing thing and there is men.

On taxes. In 1962 Kennedy of- fered individuals zero in tax. The fact is that the White House did not order a stepping cuts but he fought for and won.

tax concessions for businessmen with legitimate business activi-ty running to over $2.5 billion a year. In the late 1950s, Eisen-hower wanted to give business- men similar tax relief but he re- treated when leading Democrats in Congress demanded that in- dividuals be given tax cuts si- multaneously. In short, Demo- cratic Kennedy accomplished for business what GOP Eisen- hower couldn't.

Now the White House is push- ing a tax bill that would give individuals big breaks and busi- nessmen plenty more too. The top corporation rate would be cut from 52 to 48 per cent, the top individual rate would be slashed from 91 to 70 per cent, small corporations would get the juiciest tax cuts of all.

On interest rates. The admin- istration actually has been sav- ing ahead of the Federal Reserve System on moves to boost inter- est rates in order to protect the dollar. If a GOP administration is dared say what this Democrat- ic administration has been sav- ing about interest rate levels the cries of outrage would be deafening.

On expense accounts. The first proposals for expense ac- counts by businessmen to govern- ment curbs were rough but the White House backed down fast and properly so. If this ever dis- when it heard the howls. As fi- nally appears, our private enterprise greatly modified and Internal Revenue Commissioner Caplin "corporate state." Living Within Income

Baby-Sitting Policies Are Factor in Social Security

BY MARY FEELEY

If there's anything more typical of today's living than the TV dinner, it must be the baby-sitter. Hardly a family gets through the year without resort- ing at some time or other to this vital service. But like every- thing else in these complicated times, baby-sitting can bring up some financial posers.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Some friends of ours both work and take their two chil- dren to a home for a lady to baby sit — for the day, five days a week.

Now should my friends be paying social security for this woman, or what is the an- swer? Please settle our de- bate.

Mrs. J. H. Kaukauna, Wis.

Dear Mrs. P.:

The answer depends on wheth- er the baby-sitter is self-em- ployed, or employed by your friends. And how do you determine that? Well, does the wom- an consider herself in her own business, doing the same type of work for other families too? If so, then she is self-employed and your friends need not pay any social security.

However, if the arrangement allows your friends to control the activities of their children, such as when they shall be taken to the sitter's home and when during the day, and what time meals are served etc. — then there's an employer-employee relation- ship. And that calls for payment of social security. This is assum- ing, of course, that the sitter is paid as much as $50 or more during any one quarter of the year.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My sister and her baby live with my husband, my little boy and myself. She earns approx- imately $65 per week, and re- ceives $5 additional per week for the support of her child.

She has her own bedroom and bath. What amount do you think she should pay for room and board — and how much for my watching the baby while she works?

In addition, could you please suggest what we should pay each other for baby-sitting when either of us goes out in the evening?

Mrs. N.A.K., Allentown, Pa.

Dear Mrs. K.:

I think $17.50 should be satis- factory to you both as payment for your sister's room and board per week. And another $7.50 to the sitter's home and when during the day.

As for evening baby-sitting, then there's why don't the two of you just an employer-employee relation- ship. You can be just as meticulous about keeping records. Of course, if one of you goes out more frequently than the other, then money might be a more sensible exchange. Since baby-sitting nets anywhere from 50 cents an hour to $1.25 in many areas, you'll have to get together on the rate that suits you best.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have come across a num- ber of old "baby bonds", series A and B, which somehow got overlooked all this time in a storage chest. Are they still good? If so, can you tell me how to go about cashing them in?

M.M., Miami, Fla.

Dear M.M.:

They're the same as money in the pocket, and aren't you the lucky girl. Take them to your bank and redeem them. If you happen to get hold of a young fellow who thinks the bonds are some kind of antiques, just ex- plain that the series were dis- continued before the E bonds came back in 1941.

Incidentally, you're not the only one who stashed baby bonds away and then forgot them, ap- parently. The government says there are some thirteen million dollars worth of series A, B, C and D bonds still out! Maybe your letter will inspire other readers to tear up the floor- boards and ransack the attic, just on the off chance. Since all these bonds stopped earning in- terest ten years after purchase, it makes sense to cash them and put the money where it will earn interest.

Gov. Reynolds Denounces Poll of Bar on Rabinovitz

Says Action Is 'Black Day in History of Law Profession' Here

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Speaking as a lawyer and as a leading Democrat, Gov. John W. Reynolds has denounced the proposed poll by the State Bar of Wisconsin on the candidacy of David Rabinovitz of Sheboygan for a U.S. district judgeship as a "reprehensible act."

"This is a black day in the history of our profession in Wisconsin," the governor said at a news conference in his office about the plan of the executive committee of the integrated bar to submit the question of Rabinovitz's fitness to be a judge to a written ballot of some 5,000 fellow lawyers in the state.

Rabinovitz has been nominated by President Kennedy for the judgeship of the western Wisconsin district and his appointment is now under review by the U. S. senate judiciary committee. A committee of the American Bar Association has reported against his confirmation by the senate.

Asks Reconsideration
Reynolds publicly asked the board of governors of the State Bar, which will meet in La-Crosse Saturday, to reconsider and rescind its plan for a mail lawyers' ballot on the qualifications of the man who currently is Democratic national committeeman for Wisconsin and a close friend of the governor of long standing.

The governor apparently expected the question as he held his first news conference in more than two weeks, following his return from a visit to Japan.

He spoke deliberately and calmly, but with icy indignation showing.

He likened the bar poll to "throwing the black ball," in the idiom of fraternity life. He said anybody can speculate about the reasons for the poll and come to unpleasant conclusions about its motivation, but he said he would not speculate publicly.

Defended Clause
Reynolds said he recalls that when he defended the integration — or compulsory membership — feature — of the state bar when he appeared before the U. S. Supreme Court as attorney general several years ago, Chief Justice Warren asked him about the risk of having the official state agency involved in politics. Reynolds said he then denied the likelihood. Yesterday

Grassroots Integration Small Town Negroes Parading Grievances

EDITOR'S NOTE — Desegregation efforts in the South had concentrated mostly on larger urban centers until last summer when racial unrest spread into smaller towns, the rural areas — the grassroots. Don McKee, Associated Press staff writer, visited three small Southern towns facing civil rights drives. This is the first in a series on what he found at the grassroots level.

BY DON MCKEE
CLINTON, La. (AP) — Wide-brimmed, Western-style hats clamped tight on his head, the judge strode toward the ancient courthouse, a landmark of 1838 vintage.

Someone spoke to him, but Judge John R. Rarich retorted: "Hell, I'm worried about Negroes—I got no time to talk."

For Rarich and about one-third of Clinton's 1,600 population, there was reason to worry. Negroes, comprising the other two-thirds of the population, had gone to the streets with their grievances for the first time.

Typical Grassroots
Clinton, little more than a cluster of stores around the old courthouse, is typical of the Southern grassroots. Located in a cattle farming area of south Louisiana, it is only 25 miles south of the Mississippi line.

Change in racial customs is inconceivable to a large majority of the white minority which controls the economy and the government—as in other Southern towns.

A militant Negro group, jolting the town awake to racial issues, raised the threat of change that would leave no small town immune.

Perplexity
Perplexity and resentment prevail among the white residents; Negro spokesmen vow to keep up their drive, apparently triggered by a voter purge of six years ago.

The voter rolls of East Feliciana Parish, of which Clinton is the governmental seat, were purged after Henry Earl Palmer became the parish registrar.

At that time there were about 1,500 Negro voters among the 4,100 persons on the parish's poll list. Palmer said that since the purge, 2,600 white persons and 119 Negroes have re-registered.

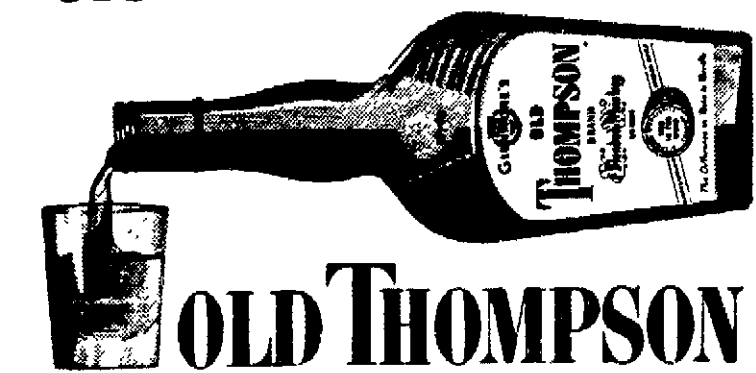

No Discrimination
"We don't discriminate," said Palmer, who operates a dairy. "I enforce the law to the letter. I don't care if a thousand register if they pass the test."

Mork said the oil shed was entered by forcing a door.

Charlie Reports on Lemmings of Europe on Suicide March to Sea

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Once more the lemmings are on the march to the sea where hundreds of thousands of the little rodents will drown as a direct result of their own population explosion.

Word comes from Sweden that the lemmings are swarming southeast now, heading for the Baltic Sea and the Gulf of Bothnia, and experience tells us that once they have chosen the direction of their suicidal march they will not swerve from it. All, or virtually all, of them will swim into the sea and to their death.

There has been much conjecture about these so-called "death marches" of the lemming, and much has been the basis of romanticizing.

"They commit suicide because there are too many of them" — this is the usual tale, but it is only faintly true.

The lemming is a member of the rodent family and is a near relative of the common meadow mouse. They range to an extreme length of about 10 inches, have short tails, round heads and are tan above and slate grey below.

If the lemmings do damage, it is only because of their great numbers. They live in extensive burrows in the northern portions of the world.

Those on the present march to the sea have come from their natural habitat in the treeless upper slopes of the mountains along the Swedish - Norwegian border. At last reports they had already swarmed some 100 miles in the direction of the sea. They travel by day and by night, never sleeping and moving at a steady rate of about 30 miles per day.

Clutter Highways

"Tens of thousands," says the latest report, "are dying." Many are killed as they swarm like locusts across Highway 75, the main traffic artery in Northern Sweden. Other thousands meet their death in rivers, lakes and streams which they seek to cross en route to their journey's end.

Highway crews are pressed into service to clean the roads of dead and maimed lemmings. The rivers are befouled and polluted by the thousands of lemmings which have drowned.

There seems to be little doubt that the great exodus is caused because of great population explosions among them. Lemming females produce two broods each year, each brood being about five youngsters. Thus, 100,000 lemming females can produce as many as a million young in one year.

Such great numbers of the rodents can and do cause a shortage of food. They feed upon vegetation — grasses and moss.

When the lemming population becomes so great as to cause a food shortage, some instinct causes the creatures to move. Usually they start in the direction of lower elevations and pass through rivers, lakes, streams and even villages like great waves. For many years it was thought that the sudden appearance of the creatures in such vast numbers was sufficient proof that they had fallen from the sky like rain.

The fact is that the lemmings run out of food and start off on their migration to find new feeding grounds. But they move in such great numbers and so closely together that no feeding grounds are sufficient to support them all. Thus they move inexorably toward the sea and to their death.

Sea Too Much

When they reach the sea they plunge into it to swim, just as they swim rivers and lakes three or four miles wide. But the sea is too great and they go, wholesale, to death by drowning.

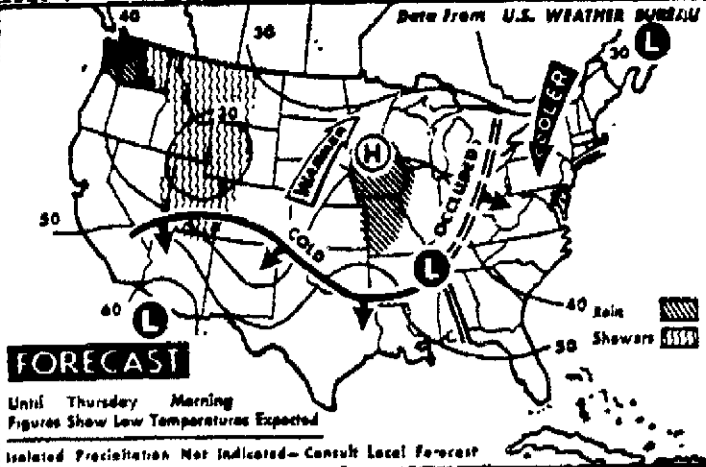

It is thought that the stress and strain of crowded conditions in their normal habitat is sufficient to produce physical changes which send them off on their suicidal migration.

When the migration occurs, many colonies of lemmings are left behind and the breed is perpetuated thus. But the high production rate ultimately causes a population explosion during peak cycles and the strange migration is triggered once again.

Fund Transfer Approved by Kimberly Board

Shifts $125,000 From Building to General Account

KIMBERLY — Board of education voted to authorize the superintendent of schools to transfer about $125,000 from the building fund to the general fund to help meet current obligations for the remainder of the year.

School board members indicated sufficient money was available in the building fund for the transfer and thus no need would arise for borrowing funds, on which interest would be paid. The fund transfer will be remitted about Jan. 15 when the commensurate tax money to meet school requirements.

Board members indicated this transfer or borrowing procedure was done annually since the school board budget was adopted in July and communities did not have tax money available until after the first of the year.

The superintendent was authorized to contact firms to secure costs of furnishing a water treatment plant for the new high school. Village water requires additional treatment to prevent corrosion to the chiller and cooling tower pipes, according to the superintendent. Cost was estimated at $300 to $400 with future costs to be added through periodic purchase of necessary chemicals.

Members requested the architects for the school to furnish board members with forms and check lists to permit a thorough checking of all critical areas of the school prior to accepting the building.

Approval was given to a proposed billing system by the Wisconsin - Michigan Power Co. which will permit officials to keep track of cost of operating the lighting and heating system at the new high school, determine peak demands, cost of domestic hot water, and use of auxiliary motors and compressors. This billing was requested due to the new heating system being tried at the school.

Plans were made for the board to undertake a study of curriculum in the schools at a future date and adopting objectives and a philosophy of instruction.

Rumors Flying About Future Of VP Post

Johnson Was Named To Insure Electoral Votes of South

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — While everybody is assuming that President Kennedy will be renominated, there are persistent reports in Washington that next year maybe Lyndon Johnson will not be on the Democratic ticket as the vice-presidential nominee.

Cognizance has been taken of such reports in Texas, where Gov. John Connally was quoted in a United Press International dispatch a few days ago as saying:

"The Democrats want to win the 1964 elections, and they might insure a loss if they drop the vice president."

AP Report

Then came an Associated Press report of a speech in Baltimore by Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican, in which he said:

"There are some funny things going on in Washington. The secretary of the navy (Fred Korth) left town rather hurriedly. Lyndon Johnson's boy, Bobby Baker (former secretary of the senate majority), resigned. Now I wonder if Lyndon is expecting the purge?"

The subject came up first at the president's news conference on May 9, 1962. The question asked was:

Rumors in Texas

"There have been rumors in print in and out of Texas that Vice President Johnson might be dropped from the Democratic ticket in 1964. I would like to ask: Do you have any reason whatever to believe that either end of the Democratic ticket will be different from 1960?"

The answer by the president was:

"Well, I don't know about what they will do with me, but I am sure that the vice president will be on the ticket if he chooses to run. We were fortunate to have him before — would again. I don't know where such a rumor could start. He is invaluable. He fulfills a great many responsibilities, as vice president, participates in all of the major deliberations. He has been in the congress for years. He is invaluable. So, of course, he will be, if he chooses to be, part of the ticket."

More Discussion

But the question has continued to provoke discussion on Capitol Hill. It is possible, of course, that renewal of the talk now is in some way a result of the "Bobby" Baker episode, since it is known that the man who is being investigated was, in his recent post, a protege and associate of the vice president. There isn't any basis, however, for assuming that Mr. Johnson himself is involved in any of the matters on which a senate inquiry is being conducted.

The cause of the speculation is doubtless political. Some of the celebrities in the Democratic party would like to be considered for the vice-presidential nomination. The first objective, of course, is to create an impression that there may be a vacancy in that spot. Lyndon Johnson was named originally because it was cause it was figured that he

Mary Lou Graves, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves of Flint, Mich., is the National March of Dimes Child for 1964. Mary Lou was born with an open spine and, after surgical treatments, is learning to walk. She is representative of the tens of thousands of youngsters in the United States crippled by birth defects or arthritis, a group that the March of Dimes funds tries to aid. (AP Wirephoto) would help to retain the southern electoral votes not only due to his leanings toward the conservative side, but on the assumption that he would be closer to the "civil rights" position of the south than any other nominee and would thereby help the Kennedy ticket.

Times Change

But times have changed. The south is headed away from the Democrats and toward Goldwater. Also, Vice President Johnson has supported the Kennedy administration policies 100 per cent and is campaigning for them constantly, whether it be on "civil rights" or any other domestic as well as foreign policy issues.

The opposition to Lyndon Johnson probably stems from the so-called "liberal" wing of the party, which wants a man from the north who can help to satisfy its particular point of view. The person most often mentioned is Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who, it will be recalled, engaged in a few primary contests with Sen. Kennedy in 1960 for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy Talk

Incidentally, there has been some talk about Atty. Gen. Kennedy being selected for the second place on the ticket, but this idea has been abandoned by its enthusiastic proponents, who now see Bobby Kennedy as a possible manager of the national campaign. This would necessitate his resignation from the department of justice, and it has been said in some circles here that Jan. 1 is the date tentatively selected for his withdrawal from the cabinet. But this seems an unlikely turn of affairs and hardly beneficial to his own political future unless, of course, he expects to come back to the cabinet in the post of secretary of state. This also has been rumored as possible if Dean Rusk should succeed Adlai Stevenson some day as American ambassador to the United Nations.

Wishful Thinking

Much of the Washington talk and gossip reflects wishful thinking on the part of those who would like to displace Lyndon Johnson as vice president. Notwithstanding the rumors, political experts generally believe that the Democratic ticket will be the same in 1964 as it was in 1960 and that the attorney general will not give up his post for the presidency in 1968 if as head of the department of justice. Robert Kennedy is expected to stay in the cabinet and

Two-Year Law Study

Appleton Women Look At Shiocton Problem

An attempt to upgrade law enforcement in Shiocton will be a focal point of a study being prepared by the League of Women Voters of Appleton.

Mrs. Edgar Turrentine, chairman of the committee of eight making the study on juvenile law enforcement within Outagamie County said today she plans to attend a special meeting of the Shiocton Village Board Thursday which will discuss the police situation in the village.

The village board will meet with Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice to discuss methods of bringing a stronger law enforcement system to the village. The community has been without a constable or village marshal since last spring and has been wholly dependent upon sheriff department enforcement.

Appleton Board Closes Huntley Building Fund

Appleton Board of Education Monday closed Huntley School building fund and returned $15,710.90 to the city treasurer.

The total bond issue for Huntley School, which was opened in 1959, was $1.1 million.

Mrs. Turrentine said the visit to Shiocton will be the initial "field" study into the problem although her committee has been studying juvenile delinquency problems and preparing for the study since March.

"We decided to begin our field work in Shiocton while the issue is hot there," Mrs. Turrentine said. She said her committee is interested in determining how law enforcement affects juvenile delinquency problems throughout the county.

The study at Shiocton will be a small part of the two-year planned study which will be presented later to the league. After the study is completed, the league will determine what action, if any, should be taken to overcome problems found by the study.

Bratkowski Gives Packers Insurance At Cost of $100 Statistics Show Green Bay Fourth on Offense, Defense

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Packers have paid $100 for quarterback insurance. The National Football League champions bought themselves a delay in the healing of Bart Starr's broken hand when they claimed Zeke Bratkowski for the $100 waiver price from the Los Angeles Rams. Bratkowski, 31, an eight year veteran in the NFL, left immediately for Green Bay and planned to work out this week as an understudy to John Roach. Roach moved up to the No. 1 signal calling job after Starr was injured in the St. Louis game Oct. 20. Defensive back Howie Wil-

Little Nine Harrier Title To Hortonville

Reedsville's Ramaker is individual champ with time of 11:50. HORTONVILLE — Hortonville captured the first annual Little Nine Conference Cross Country meet held here Tuesday afternoon. The Polar Bears tallied 29 points. Reedsville had 47, Denmark 63, and Wrightstown 98. Reedsville's Wallace Ramaker was the individual champion, finishing the course in 11:50 which is just two seconds off the record. Al Meyer and Roger Ellenbecker paced Hortonville's team victory by placing second and third. Meyer's time was 11:52 while Ellenbecker finished in 12:09. The Polar Bears had all five of their scorers in the top 10 finishers. Denmark's Don Johns placed fourth and Ron Van Zee-land, of Wrightstown, was fifth. Al Brandenburg, of Reedsville, was sixth and Hortonville's Gary Diemer finished seventh.

Goose Hunt Hours Moved Up at Horicon

MADISON (AP)—Goose shooting hours in the 2 p.m. closing zone of Horicon Marsh will be advanced Friday to sunrise, the State Conservation Department announced today. The department said the earlier hour will give hunters about 30 minutes of additional shooting and that the change is expected to step up the harvest. The Horicon Marsh hunt has been on since Oct. 5. When it opened, a 9 a.m. opening was set on shooting hours. On Oct. 19, the hour was advanced to 8 a.m. A department spokesman said the Canada goose kill figure in the marsh area stood at 5,960 Monday. Wisconsin has a 12,000 bird quota. The department noted that the hunt can remain open until Dec. 13 and predicted the quota would be filled well within the allotted time. Last season, the Horicon goose hunt lasted only eight days.

California Woman Smashes Record 792 Including 300 Game COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A California bowler has set a record for a three-game series, the Women's International Bowling Congress reported Tuesday. The WIBC said Janet Harman of Norwalk, a Los Angeles suburb, fired a 792 Monday night on games of 216, 276 and 300. The WIBC said, however, that the 300 game is pending until official verification arrives. The 792 series shatters the previous mark set in 1956 by Angela Mica of St. Louis, who recorded a 787 total.

Friday's Games: Kimberly at New London, Kaukauna at Shawano. Saturday's Games: Two Rivers at Menasha, Clintonville at Neenah.

BY RALPH MUELLER Post-Crescent Staff Writer Any one of four teams still has hopes of winning or sharing the Mid-Eastern Conference football title as we approach the final slate of games. Neenah will have the best opportunity as they entertain third place (tied) Clintonville Saturday and won't have to play with an eye, or an ear, to the other games. The Speedy Rockets can win the undisputed crown with a victory. The Truckers also have an opportunity, but even if they defeat Neenah, they would have to depend on Shawano knocking off Kaukauna to gain a share of the bunting.

Kaws At Shawano

Two Rivers is at Menasha in another Saturday tilt while Kaukauna is at Shawano and Kimberly at New London Friday night. The M-E counts ties as a game half won and half lost, thus Neenah now has 4 1/2-1 1/2, Kaukauna 4-2, Clintonville 4-2, and Shawano 4-2. The running (led by Holms Bliss, Mike O'Brien, and Larry Blohm, who scored Neenah's only touchdown last week), and passing (led by Tom Dietrich) of Coach Harland Carl's Rockets is expected to penetrate the Clintonville defense, but the question is how much. The Truckers have allowed two or more touchdowns in five of their six games this season, yet have won four of those six. The Clint offense, featuring the pass-run threat of Bill Melzer at quarterback and the power running of fullback Steve Hedtke, has accumulated 104 points with 10 touchdowns coming in the last three games (New London, Shawano, and Two Rivers).

Longest Streak

Clintonville has the longest win streak of the four contending clubs. The Truckers have won three straight while Neenah, Kaukauna, and Shawano have streaks of one. The Neenah schedule has been getting tougher as the season goes along. It built up its record with victories over Two Rivers (30-7), New London (25-0), and Menasha (27-7), before falling at Shawano, 19-0. The Rockets have tied Kaukauna (7-7) and beaten Kimberly (7-0) in the past two weeks. Kaukauna, with its fine array of running backs in Tim Verste-

Hand in Splint

Starr loosened up on the sidelines with his right hand in a splint. The National Football League statistics released today show that the Packers are fourth in team offense and in the same place on defense. Green Bay has a total of 2,310 yards on offense, with 1,220 yards rushing and 1,090 passing. On team defense the Packers have held opponents to a total of 1,760 yards with 580 yards rushing and 1,180 yards passing. St. Louis leads in total offense.

Shared QB Job

Bratkowski spent five years with the Chicago Bears and three years with the Rams. He shared the Los Angeles quarterback job this season with Roman Gabriel and Terry Baker. Bratkowski completed 45 of 82 passes for 471 yards and three touchdowns before he was benched in favor of Gabriel two weeks ago. Last year Bratkowski completed 110 of 219 passes for 1,541 yards and nine touchdowns. His eight year career record going into this season was 497 completions in 986 tosses for 6,727 yards and 41 touchdowns. Zeke also is a top flight golfer having won the NFL players' golf title twice. There was no definite word on end Ron Kramer's knee injury as the Packers started preparing for next Sunday's game at Milwaukee with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Kramer did not participate in the light workout. Halfback Tom Moore, who sat out the Baltimore game last Sunday with a bad back, worked out and appeared to be running well. Turn to Page 2, Col. 1

A Pair of Appleton High School seniors who will close out their grid careers Saturday when the Terrors play at Manitowoc are Jim Bertschy, left, and Gary Hietpas. Bertschy plays at a defensive safety spot and at fullback on offense. Hietpas, a regular, has been out with an injury for two games but may see some action against Manitowoc. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Bruhn Still Galled by Loss To OSU; Works on Passing

Badgers Haven't Lost Hope Of Retaining Big 10 Crown

MADISON (AP) — It can't be called a vintage year for Wisconsin football anymore. Ohio State again took care of that. But the saddened Badgers haven't lost hope of hanging onto their Big Ten Conference title. "We have to win the rest of them and get some outside help in shooing off the Buckeyes," is the way Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn sized up the rugged job ahead today. The Badgers found themselves in the same position at this point last season. They bounced back from a 14-7 loss to Ohio State, drove over four remaining opponents, and capped an undisputed championship. This season, the four games still on the agenda include meetings with Michigan State Saturday and Illinois two weeks hence. The Spartans and the Illini now share the conference leadership with Ohio State as a result of the Buckeyes spilling Wisconsin from the undefeated ranks last Saturday, 13-10. The three front-runners each have two conference victories and a tie. Wisconsin is 2-1.

Bruhn still was galled by the Ohio State setback as the Badgers drilled for their coming engagement at East Lansing. He complimented the Buckeyes on their effort but left no doubt that he felt his own troops had shored him. Some rough practice sessions obviously are ahead. A revitalization of Wisconsin's passing attack is scheduled as an early order of business. Quarterback Hal Brandt, whose lefthanded pitching had been expected to be a major offensive weapon, threw the ball 15 times against the Buckeyes. Only six shorties found their mark. Two others were picked off by OSU defenders. The return of veteran safetyman Ron Frain is expected to give the Badger defense a lift against the Spartans and free sophomore Dave Fronek for service at quarterback. Bruhn is inclined to make a change. Fronek has been used only briefly at quarterback but he is judged a good runner and a better than average passer. The running corps that chalked up 263 yards against OSU might have to operate Saturday without Halfback Carl Silvestri who is nursing an injured ankle. Silvestri has been the most consistent threat in an offense that is gaining a reputation for the sputters. Last week he cov-

Tigers Offer Rocky Colavito To Milwaukee

'The Right Type of Players' Could Get Him Says McHale

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, in search of a power hitting outfielder to bolster their line-up, have been offered Rocky Colavito of the Detroit Tigers in a possible deal. John McHale, president and general manager of the Braves, confirmed Tuesday that the National League baseball club had talked with the Tigers about Colavito. "It's a matter of coming up with the right type of players to get him (Colavito)," McHale said. "It's hard to find a more powerful hitter than Rocky," McHale continued, "and he's one of the few power guys available who would fit our needs."

The 30-year-old Tiger slugger has slammed 222 home runs in the last six years for an average annual output of 37. Colavito hit his peak in 1961 when he compiled 119 RIs and smashed 45 home runs for Detroit. If Colavito was obtained by the Braves, Eddie Mathews probably would be shifted back into the infield. McHale said Mathews could be moved to first base or returned to third, now occupied by Denis Menke. "Mathews isn't a fixture in left by any means," McHale said. As of Tuesday, however, Braves manager Bobby Bragan said Mathews, the National League's best fielding third baseman last year, would play left field. Mathews topped the third basemen in fielding for the first time in his 12 major league seasons. He played 42 games in left field last season. McHale expressed optimism that a deal for Colavito could be worked out because "we have real good pitching and they need pitching."

King Hill Expected To Be Ready for Cleveland Browns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The lone casualty of the Ohio State game, worked out with his sprained ankle taped Tuesday ready Sunday for the Cleveland Browns despite a head injury suffered in last Sunday's National Football League game. Hill, subbing for the Eagles' Sonny Jurgensen, suffered a concussion in the waning minutes of Philadelphia's loss to the Chicago Bears. Jurgensen is out with an injured shoulder. Dr. James Nixon, team physician, looked at Hill Tuesday and declared him "much improved," and said he should be ready for the game here Sunday. In case Hill can't start, the Eagles will rely on Ralph Gugliemi, signed last week after the extent of Jurgensen's injury became known.

Was Convinced

Buddy Parker Puzzled Over What Has Happened to Steeler Defense

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When the Pittsburgh Steelers clobbered the New York Giants 31-0 at Pitt Stadium a few weeks ago, Coach Buddy Parker was convinced his defensive team was on the verge of greatness. Now, after a series of lackluster defensive performances, he's wondering how to convince his players. "I don't know what's happened to us," Parker said as his National Football League team prepared for its most crucial test of the year, against defending champion Green Bay Sunday. "We were great against the Giants but we haven't put together four good quarters since then."

Share of Injuries

"We've had our share of injuries but that's not the reason. We've just made too many mistakes, too many mental errors." Since that victory over the Giants—appraised by Parker as the greatest defensive performance by the Steelers in his seven-year coaching regime—the Steelers have won three out of five games. But in one of the defeats, Pittsburgh blew a 17-point lead late in the fourth period and bowed to St. Louis, 24-23. And, though the past two games have ended in Steeler victories, over Washington and Dallas, it has taken some inspiring fourth quarter heroics to pull them out. Despite their erratic play, the Steelers still remain in contention in the Eastern Division with a fourth place record of 4-2-1. But with back-to-back games against Green Bay, tied for the Western Division lead, and Eastern leader Cleveland, Pittsburgh will have to be at its best to stay a contender. Defensive Coach No one knows this more than Ernie Stautner, the rugged 14-year NFL veteran who doubles as a defensive coach when he's not anchoring the defensive line. "The game's gotta be won by the defense," Stautner says. "We gotta stop them and get the ball down there. Our offense is as good as they are. But out-mental errors. And they've got side of the Giant game the defense hasn't played a good to stop Green Bay."

Records Falling in Daytona Beach Durability Events

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Forty-four world unlimited records and 84 international Class C records were claimed today for a 1964 Comet Caliente, which began durability and speed runs at Daytona International Speedway 39 days ago.

The Comet passed the 100,000-mile mark Tuesday night in tests sanctioned by NASCAR and Federation Internationale de L'Automobile. The records will be submitted to FIA for official confirmation. The car averaged 108.237 miles per hour.

Three other Comets continued circling the high-banked 2.5-mile track and were scheduled to pass the 100,000-mile mark today.

A team of 33 drivers handled the cars during the marathon runs, each limited to two hours driving, two hours of rest and two more hours of driving, or no more than four hours on the track in each 24 hours.

The specially-equipped Comets were driven by 289-cubic-inch displacement V8 engines with four barrel carburetors. They were equipped with roll bars and drivers wore shoulder harnesses, seat belts and safety helmets. There were no serious accidents.

Missouri Guide Has Lead Spot in World Series of Fishing

BULL SHOALS, Ark. (AP)—Glen Andrews, the Missouri fishing champion from Lampe, continued Tuesday to widen his lead in the preliminary rounds of the Fresh Water World Series of Fishing on Lake Bull Shoals.

Andrews, a professional fishing guide, landed seven bass, including one which was the largest caught during the day. His big one weighed four pounds, 13 ounces.

Virgil Ward, the defending world champion from Amsterdam, Mo., moved into the top seven after the third round for the first time since the tournament opened Sunday.

If Ward can hold his place he will be able to defend his championship Thursday when the top seven men and the top three women meet in the finals.

Seminick Pilot At Chattanooga

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Andy Seminick, catcher on the Philadelphia Phillies' last pennant winning baseball team in 1950, was named manager Tuesday of the club's Chattanooga farm team in the South Atlantic League.

Seminick has been in the Phillies' farm system since he left the parent club as a coach after the 1958 season.

Seminick has managed at Elmira, N.Y., Des Moines, Iowa, Williamsport, Pa. and Miami. At Chattanooga he replaces Jack Phillips. The Phillies made no announcement on Phillips' new assignment, or Seminick's successor at Miami.

Trabert Says He's Not Leaving Pro Tennis Because It Is Fading

PARIS (AP) — Tony Trabert-French title twice. Then he delayed acceptance of open tournaments." Trabert mentioned Chuck McKinley of the United States, Rafael Osuna of Mexico and promising candidates for the pro circuit.

"McKinley is a lively, athletic, vigorous player," he said. "He could help the tour. Young blood is always good and an American would be welcome as a counterweight to the Australian predominance. But nothing will be done to sign him until after the Davis Cup matches."

Branch of Firm By next week, Trabert will be in Los Angeles to take charge of the branch of a Cincinnati-based firm making men's and women's hosiery.

Tony admitted that there were other considerations than money in making his decision. "I've lost the desire to work at training so I could play in the tournaments," he said. "And if I'm going to organize the tour, I don't really have the time to play. All the glamor has gone out of traveling for me and I've had to spend so much time away from home that family life is bound to suffer. Our children are getting to school age and I think I owe it to them to get settled in one place."

Trabert was positive his departure would make no difference to professional tennis.

"There is still plenty of tennis to be played all over the world, and plenty of people who want to see the best players," he said. "People who want to see pro tennis die have got a long wait. I think this wish that pro tennis would disappear has been a long time coming."

Jacques Plante Shows Response to Asthma Treatment

MONTREAL (AP) — Goalie Jacques Plante has responded to treatment for his asthma condition so quickly he may be in the nets for the New York Rangers in their home game against the Boston Bruins tonight.

"He's not in bad shape," noted physiotherapist Bill Head said Tuesday night after Plante flew here for treatment. "It's possible now that he can fly back to New York within 24 hours."

Plante, accompanied by Rangers' trainer Frank Paice, came here Tuesday afternoon after his asthma kicked up over the weekend. Stricken in Toronto last Friday, Plante nevertheless was in the nets against the Maple Leafs Saturday night and again at New York against Chicago on Sunday. The Rangers, who had won three in a row behind the outstanding play of the veteran goalie, lost both games 6-4 to Toronto and 3-1 to Chicago.

Loyola's Harkness Is Dropped by Knicks to Make Room for Hoover

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Harkness, who led Loyola of Chicago to the National Collegiate basketball championship last March, was cut Tuesday by the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association.

Harkness, a 6-foot-2, All-America player from New York, was the Knicks' No. 2 draft choice. Harkness was cut to make room for 6-9 Tom Hoover, recently obtained by the Knicks from the Philadelphia 76ers.

John David Crow To Have Surgery

ST. LOUIS (AP) — John David Crow, St. Louis Cardinal back who led the team in rushing last year, will undergo surgery Wednesday on a knee injury suffered in Sunday's National Football League game at Washington.

Coach Wally Lemm said Crow probably would be lost for the season. Crow had missed several games this year with an injury to his right knee.

Don Trull Moving Up In His All-Out Effort to Reclaim Passing Title

Roger Staubach Still Leads in Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Baylor's busy Don Trull is moving up in his effort to retain the national major college passing championship he won last year. Now if he can stir up another hurricane to hamper Navy's Roger Staubach, he may add further football honors this season.

Trull, who has averaged more than 38 plays a game so far—and an even 29 passes—moved into first place in the pitching department and within range of Staubach in total offense last weekend. Trull completed 16 of 31 passes for 242 yards although Texas A&M did what Baylor Coach John Bridgers called "the best job of pass rushing anybody has done against us all season."

Statistics released Tuesday by the NCAA Service Bureau show Trull has completed 86 of 145 passes for 1,135 yards. The amazingly accurate Staubach, has throw 109 and completed 78 for a gaudy .716 average and 1,058 yards. After a weekend off, George Mira of Miami, Fla., last week's pass leader, dropped to a third place tie with Georgia's Larry Rakestraw. Each has 72 completions.

Fifth Straight Week Staubach is the total offense leader for the fifth straight week. In six games he has netted 1,306 yards on 211 plays. Trull has gained 1,197 yards on 191 plays in only five games.

Notre Dame and hurricane winds gave Staubach his worst day of the season a year ago and the Midshipmen play Notre Dame again Saturday. If the results at South Bend should be the same and if Trull should continue his present passing rate, the Baylor star could become a double leader. He already is well ahead of last season's passing pace, when he completed 125 of 229 passes in 10 games.

Two other new individual leaders turned up in this week's statistics. Gale Sayers of Kansas, who ran 104 yards against Oklahoma State last Saturday although he sat out half the game with a leg injury, took the lead in rushing. He has 555 yards on 81 carries. He is the fourth different rushing leader in as many weeks. However, Tony Lorick of Arizona State, who dropped from first to fourth, is the only runner to average more than 100 yards a game.

and Pete Borgini and his twin quarterbacks Bud O'Brien and sophomore Bob Main, is hoping to sneak into the title by beating Shawano Friday and watching Neenah lose Saturday.

The Ghosts will throw their stingy defense, paced by such linemen as Ken Eiting, Jim Radersmaker, and Ron Skalmusky, and pass stealing back Gary Weigman, against a Shawano offense directed by Vaughn James. The Kaws started slowly but have been rolling since Harry Wilson found the right combination.

Broke Leg James has taken over for Bob Grignon at quarterback for the remainder of the season. Grignon, who broke a leg as a sophomore and was also forced to sit out his junior year because of it, is through with athletics for the current 1963-64 school year (including basketball) with a slipped disc.

The fleet Gary Laehn, the powerful Jim Judd, the pass receiving of Dave Arvold, and the distance place-kicking of Joe Smith, furnish the Shawano scoring threats these days. Middle linebacker Dennis Lindquist, almost a certain All-Conference choice, heads the defensive platoon.

A number of other conference teams have also felt the loss of key players. Neenah's Bruce Rasmussen was injured against Kimberly last week and New London lost Gary Glocke in its game with Clintonville.

Clintonville's Melzer and Hedtke have moved ahead of Shawano's Judd in the conference scoring race. Melzer has 41 markers while Hedtke has tallied 36.

Wayne Kilsdonk pounded a 608 trio to top the Couples Bird League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly.

Other high scores were hit by Joe DeLeeuw, 550, and Jean Huntington, 190.

X-Rays on Steeler Back Prove Negative

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers said Tuesday X-rays of the right shin of defensive back Clendon Thomas have proved negative.

Thomas is expected to be able to play Sunday in the Steelers' National Football League game at Green Bay.

against Michigan State and thus achieved a big enough total to qualify for the lead with a 48.6 yard average. Jon Kilgore of Auburn has averaged 45.9 yards.

An interesting sidelight statistic on scoring responsibility shows Henry Schichle of Wichita is the leader with seven touchdown passes and 41 points scored himself. Five other quarterbacks have passed, run and kicked for more than 70 points each.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks are threatening to turn the National Hockey League race into a runaway.

Playing with a determination which they hope will offset last season's late collapse, the Hawks have lost only one of their first nine games and pulled into a six-point lead over Toronto and Montreal with an effortless 5-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday night.

A crowd of 13,967 came out to watch Gordie Howe, Detroit's big right wing, attempt to break the NHL scoring record of 514 goals he now shares with Maurice Richard.

Howe failed to score but the fans saw Ken Wharram, Chicago's little right wing, turn in his first major league hat trick.

The only other three goal performance this season was scored by Chicago's Stan Mikita.

Win All at Home

The Hawks have played five games at home, winning them all. On the road they have one victory, one loss and two ties.

Coach Billy Reay has the club playing aggressive hockey and every man appears to be in top physical condition.

Despite having such stars as Bobby Hull and Mikita, the club is thriving on balance. Wharram and Al McDonald are among the league's leading scorers with Mikita and Hull.

"Everybody is putting out and all the guys are working well," said Reay, who was named to replace Rudy Pilous after the Hawks flopped at the end of the 1962-63 campaign to finish second to Toronto.

"By February," said one Hawk player, "we'll be so far out in front nobody will be able to catch us."

Wharram was the center of attention after the Detroit victory as he went through the motions of explaining his three goals. He put the Hawks ahead with two quick goals within one minute midway in the first period.

Al MacNeil and Jack McKenzie boosted the lead to 4-0 before Wharram completed his hat trick in the third period. Wharram then went to the penalty box for tripping and Detroit's Norm Ullman spoiled Glenn Hall's shutout bid with a power play goal.

Thursday's Games:
Wrightstown at Denmark, Reedsville at Shiocton.

Friday's Games:
Hortonville at Hilbert, Winnemac at Freedom.

Denmark High School will be out to gain a share of the Little Nine Conference football crown in one of two Thursday night tilts on the final week's conference slate.

The Vikings play host to Wrightstown's Tigers, who have been deposed as champions.

Reedsville meets Shiocton in the other Thursday contest. Hortonville is at Hilbert and Winnemac travels to Freedom in Friday games.

Omro clinched a title tie last week by winning its seventh straight game after suffering a 20-19 loss to Winnemac the opening week. Omro defeated Hortonville, 25-0, Friday.

Denmark's only loss this year came at the hands of the Foxes by a 41-13 count. Four of the six Denmark victories have been by a margin of one touchdown.

Hilbert and Winnemac still have chances at a second-place tie should Denmark falter Thursday. Both have 5-2 records.

Freedom, a team that gave Omro a good run before falling off in the second half and losing (19-7), is now 4-3 and is aiming for a fourth place tie with Winnemac.

Pro Football Wash Reserve QBs Get Big Chance in NFL Games

BY MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP)—Hanging out the pro football wash — and San Diego's wringer certainly sprung a conspicuous leak in Sunday's upset by Oakland.

The American Football League's Western Division leaders were subjected to one of the most startling passing exhibitions ever put on — anywhere.

Oakland completed only eight passes. But five went for touchdowns. Dokie Craig, Allan Miller and Glen Shaw each hauled in one touchdown pass.

For each, it was the only pass he caught.

Quote of the Week: Don Klossman, director of player personnel for Kansas City's AFL entry, calls the Chiefs' Jerrel Wilson the best punter he's ever seen and sights this evidence: "The ball comes down soft because Jerrel kicks the air out of it."

There were so many sub-quarterbacks employed on Sunday's National Football League program, you'd have thought all the first-stringers had decided to strike.

Green Bay's John Roach, subbing for Bart Starr, completed 9 of 20 passes for 156 yards and one TD.

King Hill of Philadelphia, playing for Sonny Jurgensen, hit 10 of 24 for 123 and one TD.

Jim Ninowski, who came on for Cleveland starter Frank Ryan, went 4-for-11 for 120 yards and a TD.

Don Meredith of Dallas, Detroit's Earl Morrall and Roman Gabriel of Los Angeles graduated to starting roles.

"Nuf said," OR Runner-up Quote of the Week: Sid Gillman, San Diego coach, on quarterback Tobin Roe — "With his physique, Tobin can play another eight years."

If Elroy Hirsch had Crazy Legs, Jerry Hill must have Cockeyed Legs.

Hill, one of the Colts' young and strong running backs, had a bum knee in 1961 and a broken leg in 1962. In two years, he played one game.

But 1963 started differently, and Hill made great strides. Then came Sunday. He fumbled a punt that led to a Green Bay field goal and a 20-3 lead. Baltimore never overcame.

Here's how it happened: As Green Bay moved into punt formation, Hill trotted back to receive. Somehow his legs played trick or treat a couple of days early, and when the ball came down, Hill caught it — right on his ankle.

Hill, however, escaped serious injury. Except to his pride.

Dept. of Records: Billy Howton of the Dallas Cowboys caught seven passes Sunday for a career total of 490, breaking the career record of 488 set by Green Bay's fabled Don Hutson.

San Francisco 49er kicker Tommy Davis has kicked 143 conversions without a miss, and is closing in on the NFL record of 158 established by George Blanda, with the Bears from 1949-56.

Blanda, now with Houston's AFL team, had a pass intercepted Sunday after throwing 93 without a steal.

And Jim Brown, held to 40 yards by the Giants, brought his season total to 971 — he won the league title in his rookie year, 1957, with 942.

He's improving...

Insurance Meeting Set for Appleton

John Lorenz, Appleton district sales manager for Mutual Service Insurance Companies, will play host to the annual managers meeting Nov. 12, 13 and 14 in the Conway Hotel.

The meeting will be conducted by Will Baxa, regional sales manager, and will be attended by Vice Presidents R. N. Eller and W. L. Sanford as well as other company personnel.

Company operating results for the first three quarters of 1963 and plans for 1964 will be the topics of discussion. Managers from the 12 district offices in Wisconsin will be on hand for the three-day meeting.

Al Townley, casually special representative, will discuss the new multi-peril policies now being made available by Mutual Service Insurance Companies.

Shoulder Responsibility

Bubolz said "both an understanding of the problems involved and a shouldering of a share of the responsibility by the citizenry is needed because of the pressures and impacts caused by a rapidly expanding and recreation-minded population which is making new demands upon the water, wildlife and recreation resources of the county."

The planning commission is an effective vehicle through which to "funnel" the information regarding federal and state programs to the member counties in the Wolf River region and to assist with their interpretation and application.

The planning director and assistant planner of the commission are available to give local, on-the-scene counsel with regard to them. One of the principal areas of help has been to assist townships in lake and river areas with land use planning and zoning to protect property values and provide for their orderly, compatible growth.

"Counties and local units of government," he went on, "have a long and impressive record of service of providing for the public's needs, but like industry, too, must adapt their service."

3 Teams Added To Cage League

KAUKAUNA — Three more teams have signed to compete in the recreation Basketball League and a fourth has indicated interest in joining, according to James Gertz, recreation director.

Teams accepted during the past week include Bowling Bar, Art Borg as captain, Thilmany with Roger Wolf as captain and Dave's Sport Shop with Dan Verbeten as captain. The fourth team, Tony's Bar, headed by Ed Vanden Heuvel, will not be admitted unless another entry is found as the loop would be playing with an uneven number of teams.

Only 32 College Teams Retain Perfect Records

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only 32 college football teams had perfect records for the season today, following the defeats of nine including Wisconsin, Pittsburgh and Dartmouth.

The list of major teams with unbeaten-untied records was down to a slim four — Texas, Bowling Green of Ohio, Auburn and Princeton.

Dartmouth's winning streak of 15—the longest in the nation among major teams—was ended by Harvard, 17-13.

Bowling Green, with eight straight including six this year, now holds the biggest victory streak among major teams. Texas has 10 in regular season play, including six this season, but was beaten 13-0 by Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's Day.

'Back of Week' Story One of Madness and Melodrama

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Associated Press Back of the Week accepted the admiration of all today but didn't seem especially impressed with his performance.

Actually I haven't had a real outstanding ball game yet," said Russell Vollmer, the brilliant quarterback who engineered Memphis State's 17-10 football triumph over Mississippi State Saturday night.

"But Vollmer's trim 6-foot, 190-pound form dominated the storybook game marked by madness and melodrama.

He ran back the opening kickoff 78 yards to set up Memphis State's first score. Later in the first quarter on another Tiger drive, he was knocked completely off the field and had to be rushed to a hospital for examination.

Mississippi State slowly moved ahead and Memphis State fans were telling themselves the game was lost when they noticed battered No. 12 jog onto the field during the second half. They screamed for their Brothers to a 3-game sweep, who he gave them what they wanted as he directed the second place, two games behind winning touchdown in the final quarter.

When told of being chosen Back of the Week, Vollmer grinned and said, "I didn't think I'd ever get an honor like this."

All Hallows' Eve

The modern Halloween, with youngsters going from door to door to get hand-outs of candy and peanuts and dressed as ballerinas, clowns and only occasionally now as witches or ghosts, developed from a Celtic festival that probably heralded in the New Year on November 1.

A sacred fire was kindled in some high place on Halloween and all the fires in the surrounding community were supposed to be lit from the sacred one. The dead returned on Halloween and no one was startled at a strange noise in a cottage since the spirits had merely come in to get warm by the hearth. But not only the dead were abroad Cats turned to black steeds for witches to ride and hobgoblins played their devilish tricks. It was important to have a way to keep away the evil spells.

The fires came to be regarded as such a means and probably in days of very long ago there were horrible sacrifices. In later times the Celts would toss in bones or stones and if any were missing in the morning when the fire had died, the tosser was not expected to be alive by the next Halloween. Finally the customs changed in Celtic lands so that the fires were merely lit and danced around on All Hallow's Eve with merriment and nonsense.

Of course today we know the stories of witches and ghosts and spells were only legends told by people who didn't know any better. Tomorrow night when we go out into the night with a moon rising through the mist, the smell of smoke in the air and the trees standing stark against the sky we know that the sudden whirl in the leaf pile is just the wind or a startled mouse—or mere fancy.

But maybe some of us still whisper the old litany under our breaths so no one can hear:

"From ghoulies and ghosties—
And long-leggedy beasties—
And things that go 'boomp!' in the night—
God Lord, deliver us!"

Handful of Noisy Fanatics

The attack upon United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson in Dallas was a disgraceful episode. It should be pointed out that the group of hecklers was small in number in a capacity crowd which heard Stevenson speak and which gave him a standing ovation. As Dallas officials quickly apologized, the ill-mannered group did not represent the feelings of most citizens of Dallas.

But it is amazing how verbal and loud a small group of fanatics can be. The Dallas group hates the United Nations, sees it as a stooge of the Communist conspiracy and has come to believe that men like Stevenson are not mere dupes but active agents of the Reds. Other people see something invidious about fluoridation, vaccination, integration and housing developments. A few years ago there was a very noisy bunch who interpreted everything with which they disagreed as a move of the Jews to take over the world. And there are those who see Senator Goldwater as representative not of conservatism but

Gronouski Scores

Remember the controversy about the promotion of three Negroes in the Dallas Post Office to supervisory positions? Well they have been reassigned to other jobs with no loss in pay and the Post Office Department has acknowledged that the original action was a "technical" violation of merit procedures.

The Dallas Post Office has about 600 supervisory positions. Heretofore none were ever held by Negroes. The three Negro employees were promoted ahead of 53 white employees on a merit register, and the United Federation of Postal Clerks accused the department of making promotions "based on racial and ethnic background." Representative Pool, a Democrat from Texas, said the department was practicing "discrimination in reverse."

More Problems for Castro

Russia has decided to cut severely its financial aid to Cuba, which has been running about $400 million per year. In addition, Soviet bloc technicians are to be withdrawn from Havana and hundreds of Cubans studying and training in eastern Europe are to be sent home. These decisions reportedly were made at the Comecon meeting which ended recently in Moscow.

And in another blow for Castro, Cuban representatives were told bluntly to look elsewhere for aid after Hurricane Flora. Whereas Red China gave Cuba $1 million for hurricane relief, Moscow sent only about $90 thousand.

Part of the reason behind these moves is economic. First there was the bad harvest in eastern Europe and the necessity for Russia and its satellites to buy wheat from Canada. Then there was the failure of the Cuban sugar crop so that all Cuba could deliver to Communist countries was tobacco and cigars. Russia now may have to buy sugar abroad.

But the main problem is political. Castro is now reaping his reward for his support of the Chinese Reds in their ideological dispute with Russia.

It begins to look like Khrushchev is going to let Castro try to work out his own problems or get his help from China.

Looking Backward

Democratic Loss Seen as Threat

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 24, 1863.

The disunion victory in Ohio and Pennsylvania has made the advocates of despotism bold. They will now urge their principles more openly than before.

Among the first indications of this is the denunciation of the Democratic candidate for governor of this state because he is opposed to arbitrary arrests.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of yesterday (Oct. 23) publishes the following in several places in its paper in capitals:

What Henry L. Palmer said: I hope to see the disgraceful assault upon American rights in the person of Vallandigham culminate in his election to the office of governor of Ohio.

The issue is therefore clearly forced upon the people of Wisconsin.

The defeat of Henry L. Palmer is to be taken as an acknowledgment of the right of the administration to send spies to your public meetings, to break open the doors of your homes at midnight, and to imprison your speakers and candidates!

Henry L. Palmer protested against "this disgraceful assault upon American rights" in the person of Vallandigham and for this the Abolition press call upon their deluded followers to vote against him!

People of Wisconsin, are you prepared to vote against Henry L. Palmer for this?

Are you prepared to invite court-martials here to arraign and condemn you without trial?

Are you prepared to surrender the freedom of speech at the dictation of any military commander who may be sent among us?

County Reform Major Item of Unfinished Legislative Business

From the Milwaukee Journal

The effort to extend the county executive concept for now headless county governments gained a new head of steam at the recent convention of the Wisconsin County Boards Association, of all places. This is a major item of unfinished business still pending in the legislature, which will reconvene Nov. 4.

The concept now has the crucial backing of A. J. Thelen. Though an employee of the association, he is its dominant leader and powerful lobbyist. He told the convention that an "administrator" is now a necessity in larger Wisconsin counties besides Milwaukee. And an address on the subject by County Executive Doyle of Milwaukee has made a strong impression statewide.

One highly permissive bill has been resting in a senate committee ever since the assembly passed it last February. It would apply to any sized county, and would leave the options with each county board whether to have an administrator at all (the assembly dropped the "executive" title) and if so whether to make him elective by the people or by the board.

This has the leading defect of dubious constitutionality. The form of county government must be "as nearly uniform as practicable." The kind of variety that would result from the bill's wide open options, it seems, would have no "practicable" basis. The applicability to 71 counties with populations from 3,000 to 222,000 is hardly a "classification" even if the optional features should pass muster.

A much more desirable approach is that of a bipartisan senate bill also pending in the same committee. It would create a reasonable classification of counties with 100,000 to 500,000 population — Brown, Dane, Kenosha, Outagamie, Racine, Rock, Waukesha and Winnebago. It would uniformly require their boards to appoint administrators. These would be county managers, in effect, rather than chief executives

This bill also meets the problem of fair popular representation in these eight counties. They would have five supervisors from each assembly district instead of one from each town and village and city ward. They would thus have about one-fourth the present ridiculous number of some 450 board members. With Milwaukee included, more than half the people of Wisconsin would then be assured of representative county government as well as having the administrator feature.

Unfortunately, the assembly voted down an almost identical bill last June. But that was before it got the word from Thelen.

Both approaches stop short of proposing a true executive like a mayor or governor. For veto power is inherent in such office, and that requires making it a constitutional office in these other big counties the same as it is in Milwaukee. And of course an executive with veto power would have to be elective by the people.

Value of UNICEF Drive To Children Participating

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The editorial on "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" in Sunday's Post-Crescent was excellent. There is just one thing I would like to add. This is not just another fund drive for a good cause. We are concerned not only with the money not raised, over $2,000,000 last year, but also with what happens to our children in the process.

In the Fox Valley Liberal Religious Fellowship, we encourage our children to "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" on Oct. 31 instead of begging something for themselves. The satisfaction many of them derive from it is truly impressive.

Unfortunately each year a few misunderstanding people turn them away without a contribution saying, "But I already gave to UNICEF." They would not have refused them candy or other treats because they had already given some to another child.

Each child who collects for UNICEF, especially on Halloween, deserves something from each adult, even if only a penny or two. Fortunately this kind of misunderstanding is much less than it used to be. I hope it will disappear entirely this year.

Wisconsin Report

Annual Sessions for Legislature Coming, But Not Immediately

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The unvarying tendency of the state legislature in recent decades to handle its work in segmented fashion inevitably produces more discussion of annual legislative sessions by formal rule.

Wyngaard

Assemblyman David Martin of Neenah, one of the most apt of the younger members of the present legislature, the other day nominated the annual session as one of the needed early reforms of the state government when he was asked to discuss major problems in Madison.

His reaction is probably typical, although some other members and some legislative leaders have not yet declared publicly what they incline to believe privately. Why should not the legislature face the facts of changed times and needs, and meet regularly once a year, instead of in random sessions without advance scheduling that is an inconvenience to many persons involved. (Among them are political reporters who find it difficult to plan their vacations with any precision or confidence under the prevailing system.)

THE REASONS

The late Gus Toepel, who ran the legislative reference service with a fidelity and skill that was extraordinary, used to talk about the "bifurcated" sessions when the legislature originally met for a so-called regular session, and then met after a few months for a kind of clean-up.

But what to call the session that is cut into three parts as was the 1961 legislature, and is very likely to be the so-called 1963 legislature? It is perfectly conceivable under the habits now being developed that some other legislature in an early year will deliberate in four or more separate seasons, for reasons of the convenience of its members, or out of necessity or duty real or imagined.

To some degree the idea of two sessions per biennium grew out of political circumstances that had no relation to objective constitutional need or merit. Even under Republican administrations, starting as far back as Goodland two decades ago, there was a disposition among strong-minded legislative captains to want to keep an eye upon the executive department and to maintain mobility of action through the recess device, as an alternative to sine die adjournment.

Lately the people have chosen Republican legislative majorities to work with Democratic governors, which made the recess preferred to final adjournment for more evident partisan reasons. The current fussing about the governor's appointments is one example. Returning on Nov. 4 the senate will be able to reject those of the governor's men it chooses to reject. Had there been an adjournment, Mr. Reynolds would have had a free hand through his term.

THE MERITS

But these are subsidiary elements of the issue of frequency of legislative sessions. The fact is that the legislative work load, measured in numbers of bills and resolutions, is far beyond what the constitutional fathers imagined.

If the legislature decided to continue in session without intermission until its work had been disposed, it would impose a burden upon most members that would be intolerable. Chances are that the quality of legislative membership would deteriorate, out of the inability of many of the men serving in recent years to continue. It can also be demonstrated that the basic matter of budgeting in a period of increasingly complex life and more fluid conditions is clumsily handled, perforce, when the budget document covers two years. It requires budget makers to decide in the fall of 1962, for example, what they must have for an expenditure period starting eight or 10 months later, and extending for 24 months beyond. Precision of financial management becomes a pious hope and pretense, rather than an attainable goal.

Such considerations will ultimately bring about the annual legislative session by law. But since it is a constitutional rule that is involved, the reform—if reform it is—is some time distant.

Strictly Personal

Which Is Better, Moral Or Physical Courage?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In a recent issue of the Atlantic Monthly, I was interested in reading an interview with Stirling Moss, the pre-eminent racing driver of our time.

Harris

Among other things, Moss confessed that his great courage on the track does not extend to other activities; for instance, he would under no circumstances dive from a 30-foot board into the water, even though he "knew" the water was deep enough and safe enough for the dive.

We tend to do with the word "courage" what we do with the word "intelligence"—we assume that it is indivisible, when actually there are many different kinds of courage and many different kinds of intelligence.

And those who possess one special kind of courage or intelligence tend to think that those who lack it (even though possessing some other kind) are wholly without the virtue.

Physical courage, for example, is most admired in our society; yet a good case could be made out that not only are there differing forms of physical courage, but also that there may be superior kinds of courage that make the physically brave man look like a coward.

I was impressed some years ago listening to the rebroadcast of a BBC talk given by Gen. Sir William Slim, former commander-in-chief of the Allied Land Forces in South East Asia, in which he began by saying that "Moral courage is a higher and rarer virtue than physical courage."

He went on to point out that no other army has ever possessed "massed physical courage" as the Japanese did. The Japanese generals, he added, shared their men's physical bravery, but lacked moral courage. "Thus, we played on this weakness and destroyed their armies."

Moral courage must be taught, he said, because so few, if any, have it naturally, and "most men with moral courage learned it by precept and example in their youth." The outstanding impression of courage he carried away from the retreat from Burma in 1942 "was that of Indian women refugees, and not of the fighting men."

One man fears heights, another speed, and still another water. One man will make the most heroic attack and then faint if a hypodermic needle is plunged into his arm. Physical bravery or cowardice are more a matter of childhood experiences than an indication of basic character.

Humanity has always respected physical courage, but high moral courage usually meets with contempt or martyrdom—in its own time. How many men have been "brave" in an unjust war simply because they lacked the moral courage to resist the force of public opinion?

South Vietnamese Task Force Beaten By Red Guerrillas

3 U. S. Army Advisers May Be Among Viet Cong Captives

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A few thousand yards away, Communist guerrillas smashed learned of the battle too late to a crack South Vietnamese task help. U. S. authorities said Com- force Tuesday and probably munist radio jammers knocked captured the three U. S. Army out the channels on all local advisers with the 120-man task military radios force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Strag- glers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

Enemy Holds Field
The operation cost the Viet- namese special forces an esti- mated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown. "The day ended with the en- emy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Ameri- cans were not announced. The U. S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting plane was hit by machine gun fire. The pilot flew back to his base, however.

Tuesday's fight was in the same area 140 miles southwest of Saigon where another gov- ernment unit took a beating Oct. 19.

Fail to Find Reds
All day today, patrols and spotting planes combed the area where the fight took place but made no contact with the guerrillas. Presumably they slipped away in small groups on sampans.

According to an intelligence estimate, the Viet Cong prob- ably had about 500 troops in the area at one time.

The Viet Cong had been ad- versing for several weeks that it planned a major attack against Tan Phu, the base of business executives in outside- the-Vietnamese special forces the plant efforts to break down barriers between the races.

Among Big Employers
His views emerged from a discussion of U. S. Steel's role in Birmingham, Ala., scene of re- cent racial strife.

"Big Steel," through its Ten- nessee Coal and Iron Division, is the Birmingham area's largest single employer. It ranks among the top half dozen corporate employers in the na- tion with nearly 200,000 on the payroll.

Repugnant Doctrine
Asked Tuesday about criticism that the company had not used enough "economic influence" in Birmingham, Blough replied:

"For a corporation to attempt to exert economic compulsion to achieve any particular end in the social area seems to me to be quite beyond what a corpora- tion should do and quite be- yond what it can do."

Congress in Session for Rest of Year

May Lack Time to Act on Tax Slash And Civil Rights

BY JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Con- gress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tues- day of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Demo- cratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Senate Returns Jan. 2
Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 86th Congress must—by law—end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second ses- sion, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee

Cost of Living In September Shows No Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained un- changed in September with fluctuating prices of selected items balancing off, the Labor Department said today.

Food prices fell six-tenths of one per cent from August. Transportation costs also eased, largely because of gaso- line price wars in the Midwest and season-end lower prices for new cars of the 1963 models.

On the other hand, clothing prices were up slightly and there was a 1.9 per cent in- crease in the cost of such serv- ices as auto insurance, medical services, home repairs, laun- dry and dry cleaning.

The department's price index remained for the second straight month at 107.1. This means that selected items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period now cost $10.71.

In detailing the food price drop the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said largely seasonable lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables more than offset a seasonal egg price in- crease.

Vote On Deacons
In another test vote a pro- posal to reconstitute the Church rank of permanent deacon was approved 1,588-525. However, no stand was taken on whether the deacons could be married.

The council approved inser- tion in the theological schema "De Ecclesia" the statement that "it is opportune to restore the diaconate as a distinct and permanent rank of the sacred ministry in accordance with (the desires of) various re- gions."

Adoption Expected
Each of the propositions was approved by such a large number of prelates that adop- tion is assured once formal bal- loting starts. That may not be until the council's next session next year.

The phrasing of today's mo- tion on the diaconate means that national groups of bishops eventually will be allowed to decide whether they want dea- cons in their areas. Deacons would be allowed to perform certain services, but only priests would be permitted to celebrate Mass and hear con- fession.

By overwhelming votes, the council approved a document that eventually will allow the fight rules. But his intended use of native music forms for opponent, Rep. Ed Foreman, Roman Catholic services in says "as far as I'm concerned such places as Africa and Asia, it's over with."

Proposal for Fire Station Rejected

Seymour Studying Sites to Pin Down Budget Needs

SEYMOUR — The city council rejected one plan and reached no decision Monday night on housing needs for the city's fire equipment.

Present quarters at the city hall have been overcrowded during the past year. Since the arrival of a new fire truck, it has been worse. The city has been studying sites and proposals in an effort to pin down needs for the 1964 budget.

City street and water and sewer projects also are expected to take a large budget slice. Work is underway now on east-west streets in the First Ward on the city's south sides. Curb and gutter and new street construction will follow in spring. City Clerk Josephine Marnocha currently is compiling requests for presentation at a mid-November council budget session.

Social security coverage has been extended to parttime city employees by altering a 1954 resolution. Elected officials are not included since they serve a limited tenure and most are covered from their full time employment.

Ken Zeitler, who is building a new home on E. High Street, was advised by the council that an attempt would be made to reduce the street grade level by 18 inches, the proper level, if weather permits. Zeitler said he was advised to build at the proper grade level and the city would adjust the street.

Play Football

Teen-age boys were given permission to play touch football at the softball diamond on Tuesday nights. The council commended the boys for seeking permission to use the facilities. The lock on the football field light switch was broken recently and the lights were left on after the field was used without permission.

City Atty. Mike Burns will confer with Police Chief Bernard Plumb before preparing an ordinance draft concerning parking in the vicinity of the post office on E. Wisconsin Street. Parking is currently allowed on both sides of the street. At times this forces one way traffic on a two way street. The ordinance will be presented at the Nov. 5 session.

NEW HOLSTEIN — One of Calumet County's business leaders, Irwin P. Heus, 60, New Holstein, died at 9:15 a. m. Tuesday in Sheboygan.

He was president of the Heus Metergas Co., which had outlets at New Holstein, Green Bay and Pulaski. He was past president of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Companies of Wisconsin, a member of the National LP Gas Association, a past president of the New Holstein Board of Education, a former alderman, a member of the Association of Commerce and a charter member and officer of the New Holstein Kiwanis Club.

A decade ago Heus was active as a sports organizer and promoter. He founded the now defunct Wisconsin State Basketball League, was a key mover behind the Northern State Baseball League, served as a commissioner of the Wisconsin State Semi - Professional Baseball League and founded the New Holstein Athletic Club.

Heus was named New Holstein's Man of the Year in 1962. He was born Sept. 30, 1903, at Marytown, Fond du Lac County. He attended school there and at St. Norbert High School and College in DePere.

Survivors include the widow, one brother and two sisters.

Plans for Halloween Party Set in Hilbert

Costume Event Opens Thursday Night Program; Movies, Candy Will be Free

HILBERT — Plans for the annual Halloween party for Hilbert and area youngsters are complete, Ray Krautkramer, chairman, announced to members of the Hilbert Advancement Association at the group's October meeting.

A costume party will open the event at 7 p.m. Thursday at the high school gym. Krautkramer said. Ten prizes will be awarded to youngsters appearing in the most imaginative costumes.

Two movies will follow the party and some 550 bags of candy have been prepared for distribution to the youngsters before they are sent home.

Church Signs

The group also decided to erect signs listing local church services. The signs will be located north and south of the community along State 57 and west along State 114.

Religious services at the St. Peter Lutheran and St. Mary Catholic churches will be listed. Howard Sielaff presented a preliminary sketch of the sign's design. It has been approved by both congregations.

Lester Stolzman was appointed to work with an official of each church to complete plans.

The railroad practice of "flying switches" and "humping cars" has led to several narrow escapes for area residents at the project.

The community's railroad crossing, the civic group was told. The practice of turning a freight car loose and permitting it to roll free during switching operations has apparently failed to activate the warning signals at village crossings. Several motorists barely avoided being hit by the cars, it was reported.

Warning Safeguards

The association will contact the railroad companies asking them to discontinue the practice or establish some warning safeguards.

Village President Orville Manz, Joseph Zachek and Leonard Suttner were named to a special committee instructed to inspect the village's street signs. The group will determine which signs should be replaced and where new signs are needed on newly developed streets.

Its findings will be reported to the village board for action.

The group also decided it would again sponsor a holiday home decorating contest with three cash prizes and ordered rejuvenation of its community decorating work. The large star which had been located on the community water tower will appear there again this year, it was decided. George Schaus, Gib Pethan, Howard Sielaff and Clarence Hemaueur will work on the project.

Brillion City, Town Fail to Agree on New Zoning Plan

Nearby Township Territory Would Be Designated Residential Area

CHILTON — Brillion city and township officials apparently fail to see eye to eye on one point of the township's newly adopted zoning plan.

City government officials have requested that all township territory lying within a half-mile of the city limits be zoned as a residential area. Brillion City Supv. Clarence Pagel, who also serves on the Brillion City Council, stated Mayor Clarence Wolf would like to address the county board before it acts on proposed amendments to the county zoning ordinance involving the township.

The proposed amendments, approved by the county park commission acting in its dual capacity as zoning board, were read to the board Tuesday morning. The residential ring is not included in the suggested amendments which resulted from a recent public hearing here. The land in question is zoned agricultural.

Same Safeguards

Brillion Town Supervisor and town chairman, Wilmer Struebing, pointed out the current agricultural designation offers the same safeguards against undesirable land use as does residential zoning. Any attempt to institute non-conforming land use would require a public hearing and action by the park commission, whether it failed to conform to residential or agricultural requirements.

Struebing also stated that the zoning plan in its present state has passed the test of a public hearing. Only if the residents living within the area involved in the disagreement favor residential zoning will the Town Board support such a measure, Struebing said.

It was pointed out that if the area were designated as residential, any farmer living there would be required to petition the park commission for a public hearing if he wanted to build an additional farm building to expand his operation. A farmer who lost a building in a fire also would be required to petition the commission for permission to rebuild.

Crimp Ground

Pagel indicated that the city's concern was that of a safeguard against undesirable land use that could crimp the residential growth of the city.

When his opinion was sought, G. J. Hipke, New Holstein, park commissioner, stated that he felt there was no need for the city's concern and urgency, as originally presented were incorporated into an ordinance amendment for board action during the afternoon session. To see eye to eye on one point of Hipke asked for unanimous consent to act on the ordinance immediately, but Pagel's objection blocked the move.

Pagel explained that he wanted to give Mayor Wolf an opportunity to appear before the board. He added, however, that he would explain the board developments to the mayor beforehand.

It is slated for action at 2 p. m. today.

Shiocton High To Present 2 One-Act Plays

'Tinker-Toy Theater' Adds Realistic Stage Atmosphere

SHIOCTON — Shiocton High School drama players will present two one-act plays in an unusual setting Saturday and Sunday.

To create an authentic atmosphere in the new high school gymnasium, a theater has been constructed at one end of the basketball court and has been tagged with the name "Tinker Toy Theater" because of its makeshift type of construction.

Plays to be presented are "Opening Night" and "Minor Miracle." Casts were selected from the entire student body and are directed by Wayne Knoll with assistance from the school's music and art departments.

"Opening Night" portrays the antics of a Broadway star in her apartment prior to the opening of a new play. Members of the cast are Mary Johnson, Earl Fischer, Ann VanPatten, Holly VanPatten, Sue Leeman, Sandi Gehring, Bernadette Brownson, Sharon Conradt, Karen Rueden, Jane Adams and Kris Larson.

On a Raft

In "Minor Miracle" the entire scene takes place on a raft, becalmed off a coastal lagoon, shortly before dawn, 16 days after the tanker "Daniel Moore" went down in a sea of oil and flame. The all-male cast will be Duane Winterfeldt, James Puls, John Lammers and Mike Feavel.

Tickets for the two performances are on sale at the high school office and only reserved seats will be sold. Because there are only 200 available seats, Knoll said if there are sell-out crowds at both performances, the plays will be presented again.

Behind-the-scenes workers on the two plays are Mary Pat Omholt, production manager, Mary Johnson, personnel manager, Barbara Tickler, publicity manager and Kent Falk, stage manager.

County Board Approves Plans For Fact Finding Board to Arbitrate Future Disputes

CHILTON — The Calumet County Board this week cleared the way for creation of a fact finding commission to settle county labor disputes.

Assigned the responsibility of drafting the ordinance establishing the new unit was the county highway committee working with District Atty. F. J. Schmeider.

Highway committeeman Wilmer Struebing, Town of Brillion, revived the drive for a local arbitration group at Monday's board session. It was first introduced at the September session but no action was taken. At the conclusion of the September discussion there was some doubt regarding the county board's authority to create a fact-finding board.

Report by Struebing

Struebing reported he consulted with officials of the Wisconsin County Boards Association and learned the county has the right.

Any rulings by the local fact finding unit would not be binding, however, he said. Struebing pointed out that the local group's decisions would carry significant influence on an appeal to the Wisconsin Labor Relations Board.

According to a model ordinance from another county, the commission would consist of three members not affiliated with any labor union or hiring organization. They would be appointed by the county board after the initial appointments. Terms will be for three years after the move received special support from the highway and Calumet Homestead committees. They are the two groups which could be confronted with a labor dispute.

County Bank

In other board action Tuesday the People's State Bank, New Holstein, was designated as the working bank for county funds in 1964. Depository banks for county funds include the State Bank of Chilton, the Commercial Bank, Chilton; Calumet County Bank, Brillion; Farmer's State Bank, Potter; State Bank of Hilbert, Stockbridge; State Bank, State Bank of Sherwood, and State Bank of Forest Junction.

Bonds for elected officials were set. They include treasurer $80,000, sheriff $5,000, clerk of court $5,000, county clerk $2,000, register of deeds $3,000, and district attorney, coroner and surveyor, all $1,000.

A $57,927 county appropriation to the Calumet County Department of Public Welfare was approved by the board. It represents the county's share of a $234,202 budget for 1964.

The county highway department was authorized to purchase equipment up to $3,000 from its available funds without further county board action.

Home Alarm System For Waupaca Firemen In 1964 City Budget

26 Units Would Cost $3,995, Speed Men to Emergencies

WAUPACA—A new system of summoning Waupaca firemen to fires and other emergencies may be put into effect in 1964 if the budget request is honored, according to Fire Chief James Hansen.

Hansen said the $3,995 budget request is for 26 units which will be located at the homes of firemen and Chief of Police Fred Rasmussen.

When the firm alarm rings, the police operator at city hall will push a button which will ring a small siren in each unit. After about five seconds, the siren will stop and the radio operator will announce over the small radio the location of the fire.

Cites Example

Hansen said, for example, if the fire is at the hospital area, the firemen living close by will be at the fire scene in a matter of seconds. Other firemen, living on the other end of town, will stop by the fire station and bring the fire trucks.

A red light will continue to flash on the home units until a switch is thrown. This light will serve to announce to firemen who may have been out of the city that there was a fire call and they may be needed.

Hansen said this radio-type communication should work best in Waupaca because firemen will be able to reach the fire sooner than under the present method of operations.

At the present time two big sirens, one on top of the city hall and the other located at South Park, is the entire alarm system. Firemen then rush to the fire station to find out where the fire is and to bring the trucks.

Rural Fires

Hansen said firemen still will gather at the fire station when rural fires are called.

The Waupaca Fire Department provides fire protection for residents in the Towns of Dayton, Farmington and Waupaca as well as parts of the Town of Lind and two townships in Portage County.

The fire fighting equipment owned by the townships is kept at the Waupaca fire station. The flash on the home units until a switch is thrown. This light will pump truck.

Calumet County Fact Finding Unit Planned

Highway Committee, District Attorney to Draft Ordinance

CHILTON — Calumet County's dance hall inspectors will work in pairs beginning Jan. 1.

The first major change in the county's dance hall ordinance since its adoption in 1947 was authorized by the county board Tuesday. Not only does the change double the number of inspectors required at a public dance but it also effects a pay raise for the inspectors.

In the past, inspectors worked alone and received $8 for a four-hour stint at a public dance. The inspectors' pay came from the $8.25 dance permit fee with the remaining 25 cents going to the county for postage on notices.

The dance permit fee has been hiked to $21. The new rate will provide $10 for each inspector and $1 to the county.

End Discontent
Adoption of the amendment should end the inspectors' discontent over pay differences with the county deputies, but it also was expected to create a shortage of inspectors.

County Clerk Roland Miller told the supervisors 25 to 30 inspectors will be required to assure him of the men needed to send to each dance. The announcement sent the supervisors in search of candidates for the posts. Each supervisor was provided with a list of trained Civil Defense Auxiliary Police in his respective municipality as likely prospects.

Despite the sharp hike in the dance permit fee, the cost of putting on a public dance should not increase significantly. With and Sugar Bush Young People's two inspectors assigned, the society staged a hay ride Sunday for a deputy, who is paid day evening at the church here, directly by the proprietor, is a chili supper was served after eliminated.

A resolution for the sale of four rural schools last Saturday also was approved by the board so that the school attorney could start work on obtaining titles and abstracts.

Schools sold included the Pine Grove School and one acre of land to Craig Shambau for $925; the Oak Wood School and one acre of land to Gerold Knight for $975; the Hickory Grove School to Richard See-hawer for $1,850, and the Sandy Knoll School and one acre of land to Ruban Gilbertson for $750.

Cannot Be Sold
The Oak Grove School was sold to Don Radtke for an undisclosed amount. This school, along with personal property from all the schools, was not included in the resolution. The reason for not including the Oak Grove School in the resolution was that the property on which it is located reverts back to the original property owner and cannot be sold.

It was estimated the entire sale brought about $5,000.

When Sugar Bush School bids originally were opened, the contractor now building the school who recently returned from a had bid $1,600 for the lockers, but because it was an alternate, the board did not include it in his bid.

WLFM Planning Better Service to Fox Cities Within Next 2 Weeks

Lawrence Station Has New Tower, Antenna, Increased Programming

A new 140-foot self-supporting tower and four-bay transmission antenna have culminated a $9,000 improvement program for the 1963-64 school year at Lawrence station WLFM.

For the station's audience, WLFM will begin broadcasting with better coverage and higher fidelity within the next two weeks, according to Joseph Hopfensperger, faculty advisor. The station now is in the final phases of the improvement program—transmitter overhaul and antenna testing.

The station's major improvement is in the antenna-tower system. The station this fall replaced its old 150-foot guyed tower and four-bay pylon antenna system. Marvin Wroblestad, business manager, said costs included $300 for removing the old tower and antenna, $3,500 for the new tower and installation, and $2,300 for the new antenna and installation.

The remainder of the expenses were incurred in a complete overhaul of the station's 2,500-watt transmitter and purchase of a $2,600 stereo tape deck.

Boosts Power

The four-bay antenna system boosts the 2,500-watt output of the transmitter to an effective radiated power of 10,500 watts. Hopfensperger said coverage will be improved because the old antenna was not radiating at maximum efficiency after receiving lightning damage and transmitter troubles prohibited full-power operation. He said transmitter repairs would allow full power operation now and also provide greater fidelity.

Along with the improvement program, the station is extending its broadcasting hours this year. Monday through Friday sign on will be at the same time as last year, 4:45 p.m., but sign off will be 45 minutes later, 10:45 p.m.

Sunday broadcasting will be 45 minutes earlier, at 1 p.m., and end 45 minutes later, at 6 p.m.

Urban Team Must Help, Not Dictate, Sociologist Explains

Fox Valley Center Professor First Lecture Series Speaker

It is the job of the University opening session of a lecture series of Wisconsin's Fox Valley urban team to help the area, not to dictate to it, a member of the team said Monday night.

"The University's role is not to come to you and tell you, 'this is what you must do,'" Dr. Gilbert James, Appleton, told the team to help the area, not to dictate to it, a member of the team said Monday night.

"We can say 'here are the problems, and here is what can be done to solve them,' but you must decide what is to be done," Dr. James, Appleton, told the team to help the area, not to dictate to it, a member of the team said Monday night.

Monday night's talk was the first of seven sponsored by the urban team and financed under a Ford Foundation grant. About 80 persons attended the lecture, and some 30 additional persons are expected to attend future discussions.

The lecture, labeled "Windows on the City," was designed, James said, to give those who will attend future talks a grounding in sociology, its terminology and ideas.

He explained three basic ways a sociologist looks at a city: —Geographically, according to the types of areas it comprises. —Institutionally, according to the cultural units which make up the city. —Socially, according to the people who live there.

Early Theory

Under the geographical classification, James described an early theory of studying the city which involved placing five imaginary, concentric circles over a city.

The inner core would be the high land value business area. The next ring would be a transitional area where incidence of vice and crime is high. Workingmen's homes occupy the third ring, while the fourth circle is occupied by residential areas.

The outer area is the commuter zone. This system is effective, he said, but has flaws.

"Cities grew up along major transportation routes, instead of out into larger circles," he said. "They didn't fill in between these 'spokes' until the automobile became popular."

Cultural Institutions

Subsequent theories, he said, placed several sets of circles within the same large city. Cities—and in fact all societies—break down into five cultural institutions. They are:

1. Reproduction.
2. Socialization.

Road crossing. Ben Zwick, 820 Desnoy St., the train engineer, said he sounded his whistle four times but the truck failed to stop. Kersten was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital where he was reported in good condition today. He suffered contusions and lacerations. (Post-Crescent Photo)

3. Provision of Order.
4. Provision of a sense of purpose.
5. Exchange of goods and services.
Reproduction, James explained, is the recruitment of members of a society or city, the job in our society of the family. The family also has the responsibility of socialization, along with religion. The two institutions also share the duties of providing a sense of purpose. Provision of order is the job of government, and some form of exchange or business is responsible for the exchange of goods and service. This, like all known systems, also does not always provide an accurate analysis of a city. Study of a city according to population requires a breakdown according to "urbanism," social class and segregation from figures drawn from census tracts. Urbanism is measured by three factors:

1. The number of females in the labor force.
 2. The number of single dwelling units.
 3. Fertility rate.
- Education, income and occupation are the yardsticks of social class, and segregation is measured by the obvious factors of national origin. "These models all have faults," Dr. James said, "but they are attempts to find what has happened in the past and what can be predicted and planned for the future as a result." Next lecture will be Nov. 2 and will feature Daniel Schler of the University of Missouri and UW Extension Dean Lorenz Adolfsen, who will speak on "Town and Gown."

Cooperative Delegates Vote Against Proxmire Milk Bill

Dairymen Say Plan Gives Grade A Edge Over Manufacturing Firms

BY RAY PAGEL

Post-Crescent News Service

FOND DU LAC — Pure Milk Cooperative delegates went on record against Sen. William Proxmire's (D-Wis.) class I base plan to restrict marketing quotas and incentive payments to Grade A producers.

The delegates voiced their views on the bill, which passed the senate recently, at the cooperative convention here Tuesday.

Proxmire's program, the resolution complained, discriminates against the producers of manufacturing milk. The cooperative was asked to work for an amendment which would cover all producers.

Pure Milk Products is a bargaining and service cooperative with statewide membership and headquarters here. About 1,000 delegates, other members and guests attended the 34th annual convention at Roosevelt Auditorium.

Greater Efficiency
Greater farm efficiency, stronger cooperatives and a dairy program more acceptable to producers and taxpayers were stressed as the industry's greatest needs by Kenneth Wal-lin, Shawano, general manager of Badger Breeders Cooperative.

The resolution on dairy price support policy suggested voluntary marketing reductions as an alternative to uniform compulsory quotas. But, it was emphasized, such a program could be set up for the benefit of all milk producers.

"In order to maintain our nation's food production on a sound and healthy basis, it is imperative that farmers have equality of income with other segments of the economy," the resolution declared.

Proxmire's bill, treated in a separate resolution, provoked mild debate. One delegate argued, "It's better than nothing."

Tight Restrictions
Paul Affeldt, Sparta, PMPC president, didn't agree. "We need provisions for both Grade A and manufacturing milk producers. If we get only one now, that's all we're going to get," he replied.

"It's worse than nothing," asserted William C. Eckles, the cooperative general manager. Tight restrictions on dairy imports were asked in two resolutions. One opposed any increase in present quotas as long as production exceeds domestic consumption. The other asked for reduction in imports in retaliation for discrimination against U.S. exports by the European Common Market.

The delegates approved a venture into product research undertaken by Pure Milk Products with the Falls Dairy Co. at Jim Falls. The two organizations will share equally the expense involved in seeking and formulating new uses for milk, butterfat and non-fat dry milk.

Manager Eckles said the research work will be done under a special agency known as Milk Research, Inc. The first phase of the research program has begun, he said, and additional projects are scheduled for the future.

Another resolution put Pure Milk Products on record as being willing to work with other cooperatives and private handlers to establish a super pool for the Northeastern Wisconsin federal order, similar to pools now in effect for the Chicago and Milwaukee markets.

Declaring that the present support price of $3.14 per hundred weight for manufacturing milk is inadequate, the convention asked for a raise to $3.40.

Schools Closed
MARION — Schools in Joint Dist. 3 will be closed Nov. 7-8 while faculty members attend a teachers Convention in Milwaukee.

President Wins First Round in Civil Rights

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the first big round in his attempt to get a civil rights bill through Congress this year. But he may be on the ropes, with no bill passed before the year ends.

Time, because there isn't much left of 1963, and the opposition of Southern Democrats in the Senate will work against him. There have been four main steps in this struggle so far, with two more still to come.

1. There was no indication until June 19 that Kennedy intended to ask Congress for a strong, new civil rights law this year. In the spring Negro demonstrations, with accompanying violence, built up tensions.

Strong Program
On June 19 he presented Congress with a fairly strong program. There was instant opposition from Southern Democrats, Republicans, or some of them. In House and Senate were rather reserved.

The bill, as a necessary preliminary before it could get to the full House for a vote, went to the House Judiciary Committee. On this committee, headed by Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., liberals of both parties dominate.

2. Under the urging of civil rights advocates they decided the Kennedy bill wasn't strong enough. So they scrapped Kennedy's proposal, although retaining some of it, and put together a much stronger one of their own.

Big Gap
It should be remembered that in this Congress, where there is a big gap between Southern and liberal Democrats, not all Republicans see eye to eye with their House leader, the conservative Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Instantly Kennedy was afraid this strong bill was too strong to pass in this overwhelmingly conservative Congress which, although run by huge Democratic majorities, has been less than ecstatic about a civil rights bill at all.

He sent his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Celler's committee to plead for a softer bill. This didn't make a dent. So the President himself took a hand.

Conferences
3. He began calling White House conferences, a number of them over several days, of Democratic and Republican leaders to ask them to use their weight to tone down the committee bill. He finally got his way.

But it was worked out in amazing fashion.

The Kennedy administration and Republicans in the House—but not House Democrats—worked out a compromise bill which Republicans agreed to and Democrats on the Celler committee were finally persuaded to accept.

Bill Scrapped
4. So Tuesday at the House Judiciary Committee voted to scrap the strong bill its members had wanted and approved. That will mean past mid-November. Allowing for other delays, and the Thanksgiving Day holiday, it may be Dec. 1 before the Senate will or can start their House leader, the conserv-

Kennedy bill but weaker than to act even though the House the one the Judiciary Committee wanted to substitute for it. It was promptly denounced as too weak by some of the leaders among the civil rights advocates.

More Democrats
And—the Kennedy administration was so grateful to the Republicans that the attorney general publicly praised them. Any chance of a civil rights bill becoming law this year without their help would have been remote.

It was an astonishing admission when it is remembered that in this Congress Democrats so far outnumber Republicans they could put anything through—if they operated as a single party and stuck together. But they don't.

At this point time begins to play its vital, perhaps fatal, part in the two big remaining steps.

5. It is now Oct. 30. It will take the Judiciary Committee 10 days or so to draft a report on the bill. Then this goes to the Rules Committee where it may be held up for a week or more before getting to the House for a vote.

In December
That will mean past mid-November. Allowing for other delays, and the Thanksgiving Day holiday, it may be Dec. 1 before the Senate will or can start their House leader, the conserv-

Handling reservations are Francis Collar, Gordon Gamb-sky, Kenneth Buchman, Rollin Gillingham, Milan Sousek, Emeline Breitrick, Irving Breitrick, Lucille Keller, Joe Keller, Milton Fannin, William Morrissey and Paul Kreul.

The Rev. Joseph Duncan, pastor of the Community Baptist Church, will give the address.

approves before then House approval seems certain.

But, in order to try to kill the bill altogether, Senate Democrats from the South will filibuster. And there will be other jockeying. A filibuster can take weeks. Then the Christmas holidays intrude.

So it will be no surprise if a civil rights bill doesn't pass this year. Maybe it will in 1964.

Byrnes Is Critical of Wheat Sale to Russia

Wednesday, Oct. 30, 1963 Appleton Post-Crescent A7

Wisconsin Representative Says Change In Foreign Policy Will be Regretted

BY FRANCES McKUSICK Bay, declared.
WASHINGTON — The "wheat deal" with Russia marks a man who will "regret" his decision for change in U.S. foreign policy which will result in wide-spread future repercussions, a man emphasized that Soviet Premier John W. Byrnes, R., Green Bay, Wis., said today.

en up for one minute his basic objective to overturn us." One example of this, he pointed out, was the very day after the wheat deal, Russia "slapped of payment problems and will our face on the autobahn leading to Berlin" when Communists delayed allied movements into Berlin.

Favorable Arguments

"Of course there are arguments in favor of the wheat deal, and the President has listed most of them," Byrnes said. "The deal will help our balance of payments and will add to our gold reserves. It will help the wheat farmer and bring money into the treasury."

with this transaction," he continued. "The trouble is there is more involved than just pure gold, and this is more than a plain business transaction."

The congressman pointed out that the factor in the so-called business deal which puts it in an entirely different light is the name of the customer — Soviet Russia.

Goal is Same

"This 'customer' of ours has promised to bury us. It's self-admitted goal is world domination."

Byrnes said "There is strong evidence, with the general shortage of wheat in Europe, the Soviet Union, Byrnes believes that the Soviets will use the U.S. wheat to maintain its exports to its satellites, thus further maintaining its hold on the world. The House Republican Policy Committee, of which Byrnes is chairman, recently called for the activation of a special house committee on export control to encourage the free world to this country need to know more in the ironic position of being to isolate Cuba economically, while about how far this administration tends to go in the matter of trade with a sworn enemy."
